Prologue

Beijing University, Chinese “national” supreme institution of learning was situated in northern downtown of Beijing. After it had experienced a severe test of difficulties and hardships for several hundred year, it now have substantial amount of history and culture and also has a pivotal role in the institutions of higher learning all over the world. Now entering Beijing University is the dream and honor of all the people in China.

Here exist the magnificent gardens of imperial family, also have beautiful landscape of Jiangnan with unusual “beauty”. Campus within the ancient wooden tower, having trees with shade giving foliage, bright garden, bright unusual “color” moving steps, classical and refined pavilions and water entwining the surrounding mountains.

Blazing summertime, endless stream of people were continuously moving back and forth which had added a bit of enthusiasm to the originally hot and warm air. Today was another session of registration of Beijing University so there was a long endless orderly traffic flow of people which didn’t even appear to be chaotic. Almost all the initial students who were admitted in Beijing University had parents or other relatives accompany them but he nevertheless was alone.

Outer appearance of 17 or 18 years, angular face, tall figure, taking slow footsteps, head was slightly raised with proud looks, his single strand of unruly hair was hanging down in front of his forehead, his two curved eyebrow was just like a paint brush. Behind his legs was not too big suitcase which was rolling along with his idle steps. He possessed a strange charm of a male, especially that careless smile and eyes which occasionally flash through one's mind which allowed him to possess a kind of unspeakable attractiveness.

He didn't resemble those initial admitted students of campus with variety of general excitement and were admiring the scenery of campus. He didn't have a tint of turmoil from the beginning to the end and have only that single smile. He slightly raise his head and look straight ahead and sorrowfully thought in mind.....finally I arrived here.

"That.....Ni hao, senior! May I ask, where should I go to find dormitory with room no 39.....ah? You are a new student too?"

Surprised by the sudden voice, he turned back only to find a single young man with meager bookish face. He was tall not at all short but in front of him he was half a head short. His hand was pulling a suitcase, in comparison it was twice as small as simple backpack carrying on his back. Clearly this meager male with his suitcase have the reaction of I have asked direction to similar new student.

"I am also trying to find room no. 39, so we are in same place?" He replies with a casual smile.

As if the weak smile affected the meager male, he hastily nodded his head and hurriedly took several steps forward, "Un-huh, well.....That's right I am called Liu Hua, virtual electron faculty."

"Ye Tian Xie, same faculty." He responded with a casual smile.

Ye Tian Xie? What a peculiar name. Lin Hua thought in his mind. In excitement he said, "Wa!Destiny Destiny, We meeting and having same room is destiny, right....."

The school ground of Beijing University was very big. Wandering around for the long time didn't even cover half the school ground. Finally they arrived at the area of dormitory. All the way, Liu Hua continuously found a topic for conversation. Even though Ye Tian Xie answered questions, he never take the initiative to start the conversation. All the way he looked at the front with calm gaze as if looking for something. Also this maybe his standard nature.

"Ni hao, Senior! May I ask, what way is the dormitory with room no. 39." Liu Hua size the opportunity to ask in high politeness to the obvious senior guy with spectacles.

"Oh, bypass the lake over there, after that again bypass another two buildings.Yet it would be better if I take you there, here the structure is very much complex. You would need more time to be familiar with it. Come with me." Glasses man push up the spectacles frame of bridge of his nose and walk ahead.

"Thank you Senior."

"You are welcome. Come follow me."

Inside Beijing University there is 16 shallow water lakes. So even though it is hot summer, there is still gently blowing cold breeze. All of those coming from far away lakeside can experience joyful and relax in there heart. The jade green willow tree branch on the lake surface sway when hit by soft breeze. Occasionally the leaf of willow tree drift and fall slowly at lake surface and the lake surface lightly ripple for a period of time. A gust of gentle breeze blows, in a flash a scale of fish sparkles. The ever changing light and shadow of rocking movement enhance the beauty of each other.

The step of Liu Hua stop subconsciously. His body unable to move, he release the hand which was dragging his suitcase unconsciously. Even when that thick and heavy suitcase fall over at his leg, he didn't return to his consciousness.

His strange reaction cause Ye Tian Xie to stop his step and following his gaze when he looked, his originally calm eyes as if water, reflected single extraordinary splendor. In the heart a simple a line of verse appeared. "No Wonder....."

At the lakeside, stand a single calm one of a kind dream girl wearing a pale blue clothes. She was slim and graceful with lithe and graceful figure dressed in a skirt covered with several transparent silver ice like fine silk fabric, like a cloud of smoke it covered outside of her skirt. With a gentle breeze, like dancing they float like a ripple, at the same time behind her waist thick waterfall like hair swayed which reflect brilliantly in compliance with her jade snow dimple. Her elegance could hold whole world. From their location they could only see her from side against the background of this poetic and picturesque riverside beautiful scenery. Nevertheless single glimpse of her can cause anyone's heart to have a countless ripple like throwing a huge rock in a calm lake.

Her beauty and the beauty of secular woman was absolutely not same. Naturally she possessed one of a kind elegance and holy and pure grandeur just like the magical beauty of celestial beings. She calmly stood at the lakeside just like water goddess suddenly appeared at waterside. Seeing her would automatically give birth to a dream with illusionary feeling. Although she only appeared to feel a secular world, however no one can absolutely match her status within this world. From afar her ice and snow white smooth skin was like a jade stone, shining magnificent like water crystals. In contrast to that winter sun which shines with power and vitality, she resemble the bright moon. Her lips resemble pink cherry.....no matter if her curved crescent moon shape slender arched eyebrows or clear eyes with dual pupil or bright and clean smooth jade like aromatic cheek, petal like soft lip among them make her different among other female. She must have ability to shed off all unrefined parts.

“Fairy Maiden.....female celestial being.....” the soul of Liu Hua unknowingly already flew off, eyes were widened staring forward, his gaze was as if he was dreaming and seeing a person’s silhouette and nothing else. Throughout his childhood he had never before dazed like this.

Eyeglasses guy gaze also stayed dull for a while, afterwards he regain his demurral, at the same time he turned over to Lin Hua and pound him in his arm and said, “Turn over and lets go to your dormitory over there.”

“Uhhhh.....a?” Liu Hua just only woken up from his dream. He with one hand tug glasses guy and spoke incoherently, “Se...Senior, that fairy Maiden....ah no.....that senior, she.....is she.....what is she called?”

As expected glasses guy know this goddess, nevertheless he nodded his head and said in a calm voice, “she.....simply come here to see, you still don’t need to know her name, do not even attempt to have any idea on her, without a doubt we should not have any wild wishes. If you got a dead wish then you can try.”

"This.....does she have a boyfriend or have.....quite a great background?" Liu Hua asked. At the same time his heart suddenly give birth to the feeling of emptiness. Female Celestial with merely a glance to make people dazed, just assume who can get this fairy's private favor. Even knowing that this dream is wishful thinking and forever cannot be realized, but if this kind of female really had fate..... In his heart still have some kind of pain. He refrained from insisting to turn his head to look at her, for fear that he will once more become absent-minded and became incapable of moving away his gaze.

"She doesn't" Eyeglasses guy customary push his spectacles and shook his head and said, "The first day she entered the Beijing University initiate a huge riot. People wanting to pursue her are countless, among them naturally several have illustrious backgrounds. But after a little while not a single one of them had a thought to pursue her. Look over there."

Following the signal of glasses man, he looked only to see a sturdy man 10 li away from the female. Sturdy but it was also obvious that he was fat, he was standing in accordance with the willow tree with his eye semi-opened. He was not only fat but in addition strong. His height was also amazing, with a single glance he was nearly 2 meters.

"That big fatty?" Liu Hua asked.

Eyeglasses guy stared him and hastily said in a low voice, ".....he hates it extremely when other calls him fat. If he had heard you just now then weather you believe me or not, he would have tossed you directly into the lake."

"Does he.....have a very big background?" Liu Hua at once shrink his neck.

"His temper was notoriously violent, in this whole Beijing University, no one dares to offend him rashly. About his background....." Glasses man voice became even lower, "also not clear..... I heard he is only son of senior officer of China, that is all."

"Wha....What?" the eye of Liu Hua suddenly widened.

"It is said that he also pursued her but similarly meet refusal, although he didn't use power to force her but since he didn't get her, he also absolutely not allowed other people to come near her. As a result let alone hitting her, as long as any male dare say a single word to her then he will repent for it for his life time.....sigh, let's walk, these things even if I don't tell you, you would not take long to know. I do not know how many new students entering school, overrate themselves and try to pursue her only to get bitter taste later on." Eyeglasses man simply sigh.

Liu Hua was silent. In China who is able to offend supreme senior officials.....and who is bold enough to offend their son.

All along he didn't utter a single word, at this moment Ye Tian Xie suddenly, drag his suitcase and move forward directly to the direction of the female celestial.

"Ai! Tian Xie!" Liu Hua subconsciously stretched his hand to catch him but suddenly he entered a strange trance which cause him unable to touch Ye Tian Xie body parts but grab air. Liu Hua body became numb all of a sudden, if felt like he punched the wall with full power but all of a sudden wall disappeared. In general his whole body felt uncomfortable. In this short duration, Ye Tian Xie had already reached that female side.

"Hey! Beautiful girl, can you take me to dormitory having room no. 39?" Ye Tian Xie raised his eyebrow and took a closer look of this dream like celestial being face.

Liu Hua and glasses guy both had the impulse to hit the wall. That careless and sloppy movement, flippant expression in his eyes and the way of starting the conversation already made them anticipate the reply that celestial being girl may give. That is giving him an indifference glare by fairy maiden and the fatty glaring him like a tiger eyeing its prey and rushing to punch him into the lake.

However, all the things they expected to happen didn't happen. They both had complex expressions in their eyes. The simple turn of elegant neck towards him resemble like disgrace to beautiful Celestial being. Celestial being entire face faced to his direction making the pupil of Ye Tian Xie overflowing with unusual ripples in his soul. She slowly raise the edge of her smooth lips which turned into single beautiful pitch arc.

At this moment, suddenly the entire campus was quite as if it was a ghost town. Only the rustling sound of willow tree and wind could be heard. She reveal a gentle smile. This smile was so beautiful that it make people unable to move away their gaze. Countless people couldn't believe that she slowly extend her one hand and placed it in the hand of Ye Tian Xie. Her fair and clear white wrist almost looked transparent. Others can only imagine ultimate attainment of the feeling of touch underneath such smooth hand.

"I will bring you there." She took his hand and turn around gracefully. Ye Tian Xia however simply smiled and rather hold her hand and took a step in front.

Her extremely beautiful and graceful view of the back was gradually disappearing. Liu Hua and the glasses guy were numb to see those two figure gradually disappearing and didn't recover their consciousness for a long time.

And that fatty had already turned and was leisurely watching Chengze lake scenery, as if he did not even see what just happened.

Chapter 1: Assault in the Street

Even close to the outskirts of Beijing city, all the streets are crowded without end. Ye Tian Xie was walking alone in the midst of streams of people with both of his hands inside his trousers pocket. His head was slightly lowered to look at the foot on the ground. His gaze was careless and sloppy and was not looking in front, still no one was colliding with him. Blue check shirt, obviously somewhat old-fashioned black color slim fit trousers, a pair of azure color slippers under his foot and whole body emitted relaxed and unruly aura like he was in his own house. Even so that temperament unconsciously attract many sidelong glances of girls repeatedly.

Today was the 60th day of distribution of gaming console of <Destiny>. Also today at 12 in the afternoon will be the official opening of <Destiny>, and now it was 9.

Although it was 60th day of distribution, there was still a long queue of people. Ye Tian Xie already expected this, and he queued at the rear of the line. The crowd scale of today couldn't be compared to the crowd scale of the 1st month. The crowd of that month couldn't even be described in any languages. There were not many people who was able to have patience like him to wait until today. He raised his head and looked at the long rift in the blue white sky that suddenly came to being hundred years ago. That white long rift looked almost as if it was a ripped crack in the sky. At that time this evoked a worldwide turmoil and the speculation of various professors and scholars, but as the time goes by people gradually accepted this rift from a strange phenomenon to something that are accustomed to seeing. Now the human today are born to see the rift in the sky and the pure blue sky only exist in the

“Ni hao, Mister! Please provide your DNA sample.” The receptionist gave him a professional smile and wait for his reply. Ye Tian Xie corner of the mouth slightly hooked up and started to appreciate the sight of this young lady. Appreciating the beautiful female is the biggest enjoyment of all the males and Ye Tian Xie was not an exception.

His undisguised aggressive gaze caused the female who had dealt with different kind of people every day to lose her calm and caused her heartbeat accelerate. His that pupil of two eyes appeared dangerous and profound. It was like a bottomless chasm and like the act of the god involuntary want to sink in that abyss....

A single hair lied on the center of palm of Ye Tian Xia. He extend his hand forward which caused the absent minded young girl to wake up. Now she didn't dare to look at his eyes again. With obvious uncomfortable look she picked up the hair from his palm. While picking up that hair her fingers bump into his gentle hand, in this brief contact, something peculiar expand in her heart.

He is a dangerous person.....a voice from her heart told her. Still she could not calm down and her heartbeat was still rising. She didn't dare rise her head, she fiddle around with the equipment to cover up her panic, “What kind of equipment do you need.....hanging ornament type or wristband type.”

Genuine virtual games spring up at the end of 21st century but the development finally reached the pick only at 22nd century. Virtual helmets and virtual boxes are the mother and father of the virtual games. Currently on 23rd century, virtual games finally made another completely new breakthrough.....that was to have virtual reality comparable to real reality in every way which was <Destiny>. Just the looks alone of this console was way better than previous virtual helmet and virtual box. It can be hang in the neck like ornaments or wear in your fingers or wrist like rings or bracelets. To operate this new console there was no need of other miscellaneous, heck it didn't even need electricity or batteries. According to government explanation, inside equipment there is enough pre-installed power supply to operate it for more than 50 years. According to personal preference, there is freedom to choose any kind of virtual reality console. But they can only choose one per person which should be banded with their own DNA.

Even more insane is that all this VR gaming console was distributed freely.

Ye Tian Xie use his hands to pull off the cloth from his neck and his long and slender body became visible. Only then, that young girl notice, an unusual pitch-black ornament hanging in front of his chest. It was long and narrow with strange appearance having small irregular unanimous 7 holes. Not to know whether it is illusion but it seems to be shining, she saw extremely weak different rays of light from each holes. It seems to be red, orange, yellow, green, cyanine, purple and white color.

"Mister, please.....please wait a moment." Finally young girl became aware that she was being absent minded again. She led him to enter the instrument with red face and unnatural movement. Her controlling device screen displayed the information which she remember in her mind. Only then she press down the red button to complete the binding process. After that she hand over a black wrist band and a single visiting card to Ye Tian Xie and said, "Mister, this is your equipment, please take it. I wish you a happy gaming. This is my branch office visiting card. If you have any query then you are welcome to consult with us any time."

Ye Tian Xie slowly extend his left hand, however he didn't take it. The young girl gather her courage and finally raised her head. The gaze of that two pupil of his eyes and the face with glamour of evil monster and the response he gave cause her heartbeat yet again to accelerate: "Charms Jasmine of illusion, side by side perfect harmonious mix of Jasmine, Roses and lily gives pure smell of soft elegant making people bewitched, careful elegant young lady. This kind of girl is bestowed to the human world by god. Unknowingly I have been honored to let her get me this black ring."

On the tender cheek of the girl appeared a blush and she lowered her head not knowing what to do or say. Unknowingly her few years of experience on dealing with others were already dissipated and didn't know where it went. Charms Jasmine of illusion is the name of her cherished perfume. From her first time smelling it, all along to this day she still had strong attachment to it.

Ye Tian Xie had never thought that this young lady will be this easily bashful, conversely it seems to be that she is like a girl who had not even experience her first love. This also quickly aroused his desire to tease. His eyes were filled with smiling expression of demon seeing this young lady reactions as he put on the black colored wrist band in his hand. Originally the simple movement of her delicate hand, now was faintly trembling for a several time. On the whole process Ye Tian Xie was all along enjoying her reactions.

Finally the young lady mustered all of her courage, lowered her head and placed a piece of paper in the middle of his hand, "Mister, this.....this is my personal phone number, if you have any query then you can....can at any time call me in this number..."

After speaking this much, her voice was already very small like mosquito. Even she herself couldn't believe what she did just now, every day she had refused countless pursuer but today she took the initiative and give him her private contact detail. Not to someone else but to a male who she had met for the first time.

Ye Tian Xie touched the wrist that didn't have any change of weight after wearing the wrist band console. Towards the young lady he showed a smile which caused her so fascinated that she lost herself in his smile, then he turned around to go. The young lady foolishly looked at his back as if she had forget about everything for a long, long time.

After turning a single corner, without even taking a glance Ye Tian Xie threw those two bits of paper. He as if nothing had happened started to walk towards his residence.....that already should not be called family place.

At the place full of dirty and evil times, young ladies were like a precious diamond in sands. Still.....the most beautiful stars would eventually die but that was merely a diamond nothing more.

He raise the wrist, to see the wristband in his hand. Although he already learnt majority of information about it from every possible route, still first time commence still made him surprised. Maybe everyone who received it this time all felt the same kind of uncertain feeling. So this size, appearance and weight, really is rumored to be able to connect to the myth of the century, <destiny> world?

While he was spell bounded for some time, from the front the sound of rather hurried steps could be heard. Ye Tian Xie had recently turned the corner, practically at the same time a person come over and collided head on. Subconsciously, he raise his left hand to block the front. Suddenly his palm was in intimate contact with soft, perfect round object. That can be rated as perfect tactile impression, at that time Ye Tian Xie had a wicked idea which was to slightly shake hand and catch it. Now he had come to understand what was caught in his hand so he turned around and ran away."

Far higher than what Ye Tian Xie imagined, exaggerated scream sounded behind him, he take a quick glance backward caught the sight of young lady wearing blue and white check skirt who was covering her chest in panic. And other 4 individual who were following in her rear caught up to her.

All of the 4 individuals were middle aged, wearing western pitch-black suit, pitch-black leather shoes and 2 of them even wore black sunglasses. From their clothing he feared that they were bodyguard. Those 4 individuals speed was quite fast, he didn't even know when they arrived behind him, and with just a stretch of their hand they could touch his back. In the front there was a two buildings, between which there was narrow passage, Ye Tian Xie turned and entered the narrow passage. Those 4 individuals also closely followed after him but to their surprise it was a dead end and the person they were following unexpectedly disappeared.

They has seen him entering this passage with their own eyes, and they had entered this passage just after half a second after him. Basically it was impossible for him to disappear from their line of sight could it be that he can fly or become invisible.

In the sky, top of the 6 storied building Ye Tian Xie looked at their departing figure, his face showed that he seems to be lost in thought about that supernatural feeling. He lift up his left hand and had an evil smile on his face. Even now he still had that soft feeling and the fragrant of that young lady in his hand, "It seems, the status of little sister is not simple at all, if I hurt your fragile heart, then that would be my greatest sin because I had done it intentionally."

Chapter 2: Destiny World

The house of Ye Tian Xie was located at luxurious residential area of Beijing city. In this area, the whole life income of normal person couldn't even buy a piece of land, even if they somehow had money but without power they can't purchase even if they wanted to. Here, only rich and powerful people could live. In this place, Ye Tian Xie didn't have any contact nor work with other person. There are often some idle person who chatted about why such person lived in this villa. They speculated that perhaps he inherited a huge legacy or other reason. Only Ye Tian Xie himself could answer this question.

For Ye Tian Xie, this was merely a single villa but not a place to call house. This villa was empty, he was only by himself in this villa.

After returning to his room, he lied down on the bed. He was too impatient to wait anymore so he lifted his left hand and press the center button of the wrist band which gave the instruction to "enter the game".

After giving the instruction, suddenly a single screen appeared. And his eyes blanked out for a split second, after which his consciousness appeared to be absentminded. Suddenly his eye became clear and he saw variety of changing colors which signified a passage through the world. This world was colorful, shortly afterwards he heard the melodies and clear voice of a woman.

"Ding.....Mr. Ye Tian Xie hello, welcome to the Destiny world. There is still 2 hours 39 minutes left for the opening of Destiny world. Please wait patiently. This is your first time using gaming console, do you want to create a character?"

"Yes." He responded. This was the first virtual reality game which was on completely different scale compared to all other virtual reality games. Even the sound of the women before seems as if it was spoken by real woman. This shows it was no exaggeration when they boasted that this VR game provide 99% feeling of reality.

"Ding.....at Destiny world you will possess new life, new fate; once you start, there is no possibility of turning back, so you should choose carefully which destiny road you want. Now please choose name for your character. This name cannot be changed anytime later. Since you are from China, you could only choose Chinese text for name, furthermore it shouldn't be more than 10 word."

This voice expressed everything clearly. In this Destiny world, there is no chance at all to start anew again. To speak frankly, you cannot delete the account and repeat again. Therefore, no matter if it is pet name, stat attribute or vocation, once selected it will forever remain same and it was impossible to change ever again. The VR game was named <Destiny> because destiny of the person do not have multiple choice.

"Tian Mo Xie!" Ye Tian Xie didn't think much and announced this name which only belongs to him.

"Ding.....this name is already taken by another person, please choose another." The female voice gave him completely unexpected response.

"What!?" The facial expression of Ye Tian Xie immediately became indiscernable. His two pupils started to shine with dangerous radiance.

China had a couple of hundred million population and the <Destiny> console was on the hand of most of them. It was also not in the least overstatement to say there was at least tens of millions gamers. So such a large base of repeat nickname were perfectly normal, but to repeat the name "Tian Mo Xie", things were simply far from simple repetition of pet name.

".....Sir, this name is indeed already used by another user, please choose a new one." It seemed to have felt immense change in Ye Tian Xie and his surroundings. The voice from the system actually became rather apprehensive. Ye Tian Xie was enraged however also secretly gasped in surprised as this system voice even carried emotion.

"Xie Tian." After a long silence, Ye Tian Xie finally voice out another name. His eyes however were shining with ice-cold rays..... 'Who dare to use his name, was it to provoke me? Very good, but the price of provoking me however is not absolutely within the means of capacity you can endure.'

""Xie Tian' assigning name is successful. Please set the scope of appearance adjustment."

The corner of Ye Tian Xie' mouth curved upward, "adjust to 100%!"

"....."At once the voice of that woman was clearly obstructed. Afterwards, in a weak voice said, "Sir, the adjustment scope of appearance is at most 20%, is it ok to adjust at 20%?"

"Ok."

"Adjustment of appearance succeed. Adjustment of appearance is for initial stage of games in compliance with the wish of players to maintain a certain degree of privacy and protection. After the first transfer, appearance adjustment effect will disappear automatically, if you want to continue to protect your privacy, you can get a mask at any store in any city for free. Please select your pain tolerability in the game, ranging from 5% to 100%, this ratio affects only pain and does not affect any other senses."

"Of course, 5%." Ye Tian Xie without the slightest hesitation said. Only the people with some problem in brain choose 100%.

"Setting of pain tolerance rate successful, please distribute your initial free points to your basic attributes. Each player have altogether initial 25 points. It is free to distribute on strength, vitality, agility and spirit (basic 4 elements-earth, water, fire and wind). Any stat attribute should be at least 4 and not exceeding 10 points. The points could be earn in Destiny world by leveling up. Please choose."

Finally a single white color panel floated in front of him. Above side by side, there was strength, vitality, agility and spirit, behind which there was a detailed marked counter per basic attribute. Strength influences physical attack, vitality influences health and defense and agility influences accuracy and dodging speed and also influences long range vocations' attack and spirit however influences magic attack and mana. Each player with different vocation have nothing in common with each other.

After the panel appeared in front of Ye Tian Xie, he became lost in thought for a long time. The distribution of the points in the basic attribute is closely related to the selection of vocation. Therefore, this time again ought to choose single vocation.....is chasing 100 steps to kill like wind shadow or indestructible and motionless like a wall or dark king.....

Inside his mind, single faint beautiful image dazzled and finally his hands start moving. He placed maximum points in strength basic attribute which was 10 and also started to distribute points in other basic attributes. His distributed free points as strength 10, vitality 7, agility 4 and spirit 4. Clearly he had already decided to choose close combat vocation.

“Free points distribution in basic attribute success. Please assign points in fixed attributes. Each player have all together 10 points to distribute in fixed attributes which are luck, comprehension and charm. Every fixed attributes can be distributed minimum of 0 points and maximum of 10 points. Fixed attributes can only increase through equip bonus or other special way. ‘Luck’ relates to Destiny world’s fortune, particularly involves drop rate, critical attack rate, success rate of chance event and other numerous aspect. ‘Comprehension’ relates to Destiny world’s understandings capability, better understanding of the survival skills and at the same time every new realization can gain additional 0.3% of experience. ‘Charms’ relates to Destiny world’s charisma index, higher the charms, the higher it is likely to get along and have good impression with NPC of Destiny world. Please assign carefully.”

Chapter 3: Appearance of Unexpected Error

These 3 fixed attributes were all extremely important, giving up even a single one of them can make any people distressed. Therefore the point distribution on these fixed attributes is beyond doubt important. Compared to free attributes, it is very difficult to upgrade. Still Ye Tian Xie actually didn't pause at all to think and distributed the points at one go. He distributed points as, charms 10 points, luck 0 point and comprehensive 0 point.

".....Mister, distribution of points in fixed attributes are very important, are you sure you want to distribute the points in this way? If luck is 0, at Destiny world your drop rate and critical hit rate will be at minimum and also while attacking, your attack takes minimum value of your attack value. And if comprehension is 0, at Destiny world you....."

"Do you think charm value of 10 points is enough to match up to my charm?" Ye Tian Xie exposed a weird smile towards the front which could bring back dead person back to life——at least he himself thought this way.

".....Mister, you indeed have high charm." System voice have no choice but to politely reply.

"So it is decided this way. Next is choosing vocation right." Ye Tian Xie said with proud smile.

"Ding.....points distribution on fixed attributes successful. Please wait a moment. System will be scanning your innate attribute. It will take 10 to 20 seconds of time."

"Oh? Innate attribute." Ye Tian Xie felt somewhat surprised. Free attribute and fixed attributes already can be claim as innate attribute, still what is this additional innate attribute?

"Ding.....innate attribute scanning complete. Your innate attribute are, reaction: 72, perception: 53 and focus: 42."

Once again a single white colored panel appeared in front of Ye Tian Xie. In this panel, the first row was marked with 3 of the previous fixed attributes and in the second row, there was another 3 never seen before unusual attribute. After that there was a small explanatory note which made him greatly interested.

'Reaction' is ability to cope with external attack at high speed.
'Perception' is ability to sense surroundings and danger to a certain range and 'focus' is ability to not be greatly affected by external simulation.

Players at Destiny world have innate attribute equal to the innate attribute at real world.....reaction, perception and focus. All this is related to the spirit. And entire VR game use brain wave of human body, like this cerebrum gives priority to these three innate attribute so anything else is unlikely to influence it. In simple words, what is the reaction speed in real world, same is in Destiny world and same for other remaining two innate attribute. So it is harder to upgrade.

"What is the average innate attribute value?"

"This.....more or less in between 7 to 10."

"Between 7 to 10?" Watching his own innate attribute average value which was several times more, Ye tian Xie started to laugh. All this innate attribute is nothing more but the number representation of his real body.

What does it signify to have 7 times the reaction of normal person? Twice could be called out as extraordinary, triple may be called as superman, but 7 times was beyond the description.

"Next, please choose your vocation. Destiny world have all together 7 main vocation which could be divided into warrior, guardian (盾卫; any idea), archer, assassin, priest, magician and summoner. For life vocation, you should search yourself at Destiny world. Based on the distribution of free attribute, you are recommended to choose warrior vocation having close combat ability or maybe a guardian having great defense."

"Choose warrior!"

"Ding.....you have successfully select warrior vocation, warrior have powerful physical attack ability and have variety of attack pattern as well as relatively powerful physical defense ability. In comparison attack accuracy and dodging ability is rather weak. Only after first advancement in vocation, you can be real warrior and can get the second sub vocation according to your wish. The main attribute of warrior is strength and also a little bit of agility. Every increase of 1 point in strength can promote 2 points in physical attack, every increase of 1 point in vitality can promote 10 HP (life points) and 1 points in defense, every increase of 1 point in agility can promote 1 point in dodging rate and 1 point in hit rate and lastly every increase of 1 point in spirit can promote 2 points in magic attack and 10 points in MP (magic point). Assigning a vocation, please wait a moment....."

Time passed second by second, any time now assigning the vocation will be complete. But even after a long time, the announcement voice didn't come. Ye Tian Xie was already getting impatience.

".....please wait a moment."

Ye Tian Xie: "....."

"Ding.....assignment of vocation failed because of unknown reason." After waiting for a long time the system voice gave him completely unexpected answer.

"Assignment of vocation failed! What is the meaning of this?" Ye Tian Xie tightly knit his brows and asked. Assignment of vocation is the first step to enter the VR game world. This step should be simple but without any reason this step failed. According to myth of <Destiny>, there is not even a single error, but why did such a simple blunder appear at this time.

"This.....I am also not very clear. I have already tried several times but all failed.....now I can only recommend you to reach level 10 in Destiny world, afterwards look for vocation advisor and directly change your vocation into real warrior." The voice of woman was clearly somewhat nervous. At present in whole Destiny world, China alone already have several hundred million players. But none of them encounter this problem while assigning the vocation. Even this system receptionist having wisdom equal to humankind was surprised and be at a loss.

Get the vocation after level 10? Like that, at beginning stage he will not have any vocation, no matter if it is beginning stage his speed to advance compared to all other player will fall behind. Suppressing his anger he said, "Shut up, isn't it said that at Destiny world, each and every player starting point is absolutely fair, isn't it? If you cannot assign the vocation then you must give me appropriate compensation."

"This.....this.....I.....sorry, sorry....." The voice of system was completely filled with anxiousness, tension and confusion, her voice sounded teary to the point that it sounded like she was about to cry. This kind of sound let Ye Tian Xie felt as if he had done something cruel to a little girl which made him suppress all of his stomach full of anger which was on the verge of erupting. He looked at the time and it was 2 minute before 10 and powerlessly he said "Forget it"

Without waiting the response of the system voice, he commanded to log out of game which suddenly caused surrounding around him distort into darkness. He opened his eye and saw ceiling of his own room. He raise his hand to see that pitch-black wrist band in his wrist. Although he had to suppressed a stomach full of anger, still he also have no choice but to praise this one magical gaming console.

9 hours 59 minutes.

Taking a quick glance at the clock, Ye Tian Xie get out of the bed. At the side of the bed, there was dark blue colored VR box, this had the VR game called 'Murder God'. This VR box had kept him company for about 7 months. And today was the day he will thoroughly part from this game. 2 months before distribution of the console of Destiny, the 7 popular VR games at that time all declared server shutdown on the day of <Destiny> world opening, This was quite an astonishing fact that from henceforth Destiny world was the only VR game available to mankind.

Chapter 4: Undeclared Myth (Part I)

<Murder God> world, deep within windy plain.

Here the active monsters were weak and small having level below 15. They were mostly passive in nature. This place was only a walk away from the beginner village. Many of the beginner players used to grind level in this region. But at present, average level of players already exceed level 70. So almost no player appear in this region.

The whole body of Ye Tian Xie was equipped with dazzling white shiny armor. His one hand was holding strange shaped bow which was dazzling with golden light. Single pale color cloak covered his head which obstruct people from clearly see his appearance. When he appeared here he was surprised that however unexpectedly the person he made an appointment with did not show up before him.

After more than 10 seconds later, second hand landed on 12. Finally the time reached 10 in the morning. Ye Tian Xie gave a final glance to this world and went offline.

After he get out from VR box, he placed his hand on the front side of the VR box and lightly pressed down, suddenly a burst of muffled cracking sound was heard. The core part of VR box was completely crushed. Since he had already decided to not log in <Murder God> again, then whatever the reason he won't ever enter the game again. And the person whom he had appointment with came to conclusion. For other people it was natural to wait for more than whole day and entire night for meeting her but he was different he would not wait even a single second more after appointment time. No matter who the counterpart of appointment is, if at appointment time, the other party did not appear then without the slightest hesitation, he would turn around and leave. This was his pride that was only his.

“‘Xue Yao Yue’, see you again in <Destiny>. Originally you would have become the first person to know me but unfortunately you missed that chance.”

<Murder God> world, 3 seconds after Ye Tian Xie left, from a distant place a single pitch-black person silhouette as if black lightning anxiously come over——that person was unexpectedly flying at low level. This person was clearly a female and her whole body was emitting dark cold aura. Her whole body was tightly covered by simple and unadorned black cloth. Her face above the nose section was exposed while remaining was covered with black mask. Merely looking at the exposed section of the face, without a doubt anyone could tell that her appearance is like a jade flower.

She stopped at the location where Ye Tian Xie was standing before he left, her expression was complex and she take a quick look on all sides. After a long time she send out a light sigh. She knew herself, she had arrived a few second late as well as it was absolutely impossible for that man with high pride to wait even a few second more. Still standing in the midst of light breeze, her concealed and unsurpassed charm was on full display. Her particularly tight waistline, outstanding voluptuous soft and white breasts and picture perfect figure with invariably buttocks, were all covered up by clothes. Her figure was beautiful and charming from head to toe and was absolutely perfect ‘S’ shape. Her stunning brief glance was enough to make others crazy.

The two bleak beautiful eyes flashed a faint light and she raise her short transparent dagger with her soft, smooth and fine jade like hand. The edge of dagger was almost like ice of initial freezing with no trace of any dust or bloodstain.

At this time, not far away there were two people approaching towards her direction. Their steps became even faster when they saw her. She lift her short transparent dagger with her right hand, closed her eye and threw that dagger which could make any players in <Murder God> world crazy. After that she logout from the game and disappeared from that location.

From far-off the two approach near, over the top of head there was two similar pet names: Duo La A Meng and Duo La B Meng.

The player having Duo La A Meng hurriedly take a few step forward and picked up that abandoned dagger. And checked the attribute of dagger and after seeing it his pupils shrinked and make a sound with trembling voice, "Ice.....'Ice Blood Fang'! This.....is the weapon of Xue Yao Yue! Don't tell me I am having a dream....."

Just now, that player with black cloth all over the body standing here was clearly a woman player.....don't tell me that woman was unexpectedly Xue Yao Yue?

Duo La B Meng go forward, and with full of curiosity asked, "Xue Yao Yue.....is she a very powerful player?

Duo La A Meng shook his head and with a disdain look said, "You bookworm, you are probably the only idiot who don't know one of the highest grade player....Xue Yao Yue"

"hick...." Duo Ta B Meng smiled embarrassingly and patiently wait for the explanation.

Duo Ta A Meng was full of respect, now his hand was slightly shivering and looking at the location where Xue Yao Yue was standing and said, "In China there has always been a ranking board for the strongest player in Virtual Reality. Among them, Top 10 are always greatest and strongest expert of China and this name list every so often. Nevertheless.....only first 3 never change. These 3 are known as 3 greatest myth of China. And Beautiful Asura, Xue Yao Yue is precisely one of this 3 greatest myth. Two years ago her reputation rose from <Lift up the Heaven> VR game, from then on her reputation shook VR world."

"Beautiful Asura? Is this her title?"

Duo La A Meng slowly explained, "That's right. She is proud, aloof and solitary person, never associated with any other person and the number of peoples she killed were many, many times more than you can imagine. That's how she got title of Asura. She is not only powerful, proud and aloof but also mysterious. Apart from her name Xue Yao Yue, no one else have seen her face and have any other information on her. At the same time she is also prettiest woman, so 'Beautiful' originated from this."

"Oh? Wait a moment, didn't you say no one had ever seen her face? Then why did you know she is beautiful?" Duo La B Meng interrupt him and ask.

Duo La A Meng explained, "2 years ago at VR game called <Lift up the Heaven> world, once created a 'beautiful woman' ranking list. This ranking list was based on overall beauty of female player and was completely fair. In this ranking Xue Yao Yue was foremost and many realize at that time under such fierce name there was a gorgeous person. All who had approached her were killed by her. (Xue Yao Yue: Moon Blood Demon)

Thinking that cool, elegant and magnificent figure standing high at pinnacle, Duo La A Meng face showed deep yearning, only it's a pity, his level of people can only raise their head and look up with extravagant hope.

"All? That.....don't tell me she is rank 1 among the 3 greatest myth who is undefeated?" Duo La B Meng asked in amazement. If the rank 1 individual of VR game world is unexpectedly a woman then this could make all people stunned and surprised.

"No, is not!" Duo La A Meng, shook his head resolutely. Gradually his gaze was flooded with a kind of yearn which Duo La B Meng could never understand. That was not simply admiration like a fan to a celebrity or so but purely a worship, fear and vague sense to the extent of devotion on him. It even more resemble like hailing to one of a god, "That person is called Tian Mo Xie, he is the unsurpassed pinnacle myth of Chinese VR game world. Generally known with his title 'Undefeated Evil Emperor' (不败邪皇)."

"Undefeated Evil Emperor.....Tian Mo Xie?" Duo Le B Meng lowered is head and mumbled this name several time and at the same time tried to draw the outline of this person. "Undefeated" as a name.....moreover is universally accepted as undefeated. How many people in the whole world can achieve this simple 2 words as a title. [in Chinese undefeated have 2 words].

Undefeated Evil Emperor, Tian Mo Xie had already turned into the representative of mankind in this second world. There was only very few people who didn't know this name.

"Tian Mo Xie, although he was named 'Mo Xie' (no evil), however his behavior was extremely evil. It is said that at VR game world, like Xue Yao Yue, he was also solitary under the heaven. Those strongest alliances with hundreds of thousands and millions players attempted to draw him in their alliance. But without exception they were all refused and whoever dared provoke him all suffer his terrifying retaliation. He never feared any other power and was also fearless to offend anyone. There was not a single thing even at VR world that he dare not to do. Afterward powerful alliances only attempted to draw him but no one bold enough to provoke him." Duo La A Meng sigh with feeling after mentioning pinnacle myth of VR world. This 'myth' is absolutely not a symbolic title, he actually give rise to countless sensations with shock which allowed him to completely rise the myth of 2 words. (Undefeatable)

Chapter 5: Undefeated Myth (Part II)

“Those power having more than million players didn’t even dare to provoke him? Isn’t this somewhat too exaggerate?” Dou La B Meng said with some hesitation. Surely those who were hearing this for the first time will think it’s unimaginable. All along at VR game world, all players’ starting point is alike to make it fair. In addition they are situated at same world and even the equips given are same rank at first to make no difference in all players starting point. Still from where did this this kind of gap appeared? This VR game world is not any fantasy novel where a single person can match ten thousands.

“I simply know you will speak this way. If I was in your shoes then I would have also react in same way. But the name Undefeated Evil Emperor is nothing to ridicule at.....I will tell you some of his causal achievement.....”

“Each player is fond of playing VR game in their own way and eventually choose their own vocation which suits them. Even if VR game was changed, the vocation is usually not changed, especially since experts seek actual peak strength so they forever choose the vocation that would suit them.....still Tian Mo Xie is exceptional, this also is one of his evil nature. 3 years ago, at that VR game named <In the Sky>, he selected assassin vocation and in the midst of <In the Sky>, his reputation greatly shocked the entire world. At <In the Sky> he had done countless things, among them, once he happened to have a conflict with the leader of the ‘Blood Wolf’ alliance and he killed him in less than 5 seconds of time. If the alliance leader was sensible then this event would have concluded at this point, but that alliance leader however held a grudge and after some days he dispatched several 100 expert alliance member to jointly attack Tian Mo Xie.....ultimately that several 100 players could not do a thing to Tian Mo Xie, instead more than half of them were dead, and after that day, that alliance leader was assassinated all together 72 times. No matter where he flee and however many guard he had were all meaningless as long as he was online he would be assassinated. In less than a month, the level of that alliance leader was dropped down below 10 and system forcefully sent him back to beginner village. Still everything was not over, as long as that alliance leader take a step out from beginner village he was immediately killed by Tian Mo Xie. Afterwards that leader never appeared in <In the Sky> and Blood Wolf alliance was dissolved."

"2 years ago, <Lift up the Heavens> was explosively popular in the whole world, and in this VR game he selected guardian vocation. Most guardian are tanks who are defense oriented but his attack and defense ability however were similarly powerful. The mobility of guardian was suppose to be very weak but what should be feared was, his mobility was undoubtedly comparable to assassin if not higher which was by many times more than other guardian players. Powerful attack, defense and agile speed, entirely concentrated until the limit this was why the other players had already thought Tian Mo Xie as a BUG in <Lift up the Heavens>. Roughly after half a year after <Lift up the Heavens> started, there were 10 big alliances of which 'red autumnal leaves alliance' and 'war soul hall' were having a warfare, this was a large scale seize war. In this war 'red autumnal leaves alliance' which was in defense was clearly in inferior position. At that time, Tian Mo Xie by coincidence was just passing by.....only was passing by but he raise his sword and a single shield and joined the defense troop of the wall. His mixed suddenly changed the direction of war and gradually their inferior position change into superior position and finally 'war soul hall' retreated in defeat. Tian Mo Xie alone by himself completely change the tide of such large scale war where at least 20000 players had participated. After the event, the alliance leader asked the reason why Tian Mo Xie supported his alliance, the answer to the question was that he simply felt Red autumnal leaves name pleasing to eye nothing else."

“‘War soul hall’ was very intelligent as even after this they didn’t look for Tian Mo Xie for trouble. The temper of Tian Mo Xie was strangely irregular, never needed a reason to do something. He helped ‘red autumnal leaves’ didn’t meant they had any friendship between them and also absolutely trying to pick a fight with ‘war soul hall’. Next day he would completely forget about this. And if ‘war soul hall’ go to provoke Tian Mo Xie then that would cause enmity between them and that enmity may perhaps cause their life.....hick suffer from living nightmare.”

“And in <Murder God> VR game, he had another vocation——ranger. 6 months ago, big horde of monsters named ‘mist’ attacked single small town, there Tian Mo Xie alone defended the entire eastern side of that small town only with a single bow. Not a single monster was able to step into that small town from his side. 3 months ago, in the northern dazzling forest appeared an only overlord (领主: any better suggestion) class BOSS. 300 of same guild players bravely fought a difficult battle. But unfortunately encountered Tian Mo Xie who was also at that place. It is rumored that, he still stand at side and watch them for a long while. Afterwards he raised his bow and in front of several hundred players he kill stole the BOSS and when those players were dumbstruck he picked all dropped equips and swaggered off. At that BOSS fight, a single player had recorded the complete video which attract the attention of many for a long period of time and cause a huge sensation. The swift ability of judgment of location and timing of the arrow of Tian Mo Xie caused many people to let out a big breath. Overlord Boss didn’t even once touched Tian Mo Xie, and that several hundred players couldn’t even ward off his incomparably accurate and calculated attack and they just became meat shield for BOSS attack.....”

“His all kinds of tales are too numerous to mention individually, still like Xue Yao Yue, in the end till this date no one knows what type of persons they are in real world. Many power wanted to gather their information but even they couldn't gather much information." Duo La B Meng was stupefied hearing Duo La A Meng narration. He felt as if he was hearing a myth.

10 o'clock.

He opened a big can of canned fruit and directly eat the fruit. After emptying the can, Ye Tian Xie randomly threw it, the empty can flew out in not so beautiful arc towards the distance, "crash...." and dropped on the ground. And in the surrounding other all kinds of empty bottles and cans also started to fall. Because of this the air also started to smell bad.

This is precisely the pattern of eating lunch of Ye Tian Xie. His room was very messy, all the things were piled up here and there like a garbage dump. No one could ever think that within such a luxurious villa there is such a garbage dump. Ye Tian Xie was already accustomed to everything here, whether or not it is dirty and messy..... this was merely a place to stay.

With a remote control he opened a television. If he didn't misremember, before an hour of <Destiny> opening, Tianwai Corporation will be having a final news conference which he didn't wish to miss.

On the screen of the television, appeared well known aged face with white and gray hair. He looked like he was already above 80 in age, his expression was gentle and pleasing to eyes. He was precisely the director of Tianwai Corporation, 'Pu Luo Si', also owner and researcher of <Destiny>as well as what was the most surprising thing about <Destiny> was there were only 2 researcher for this. To be precise, another research participant named 'Alpha' and him was main researcher and remainder only helped in making gaming console, their transport and distribution nothing more.

And even more astonishing fact was that 'Alpha' was space alien, genuine space alien. All the countries in the world firmly testified and believed in his identity. This is also one of the reason for <Destiny> to cause huge sensation. This <Destiny> VR game shows the vast difference between our and space alien science and technology. But whatever method 'Pu Luo Si' used, this VR game influence had already expand to a terrifying level.....support of 10 biggest banks of the world, 7 biggest VR game company of the world all declared to change profession, all the government of countries around the world gave priority to this VR game and spare no effort in distributing and implementing this game, no other previous VR game got this special honor.

Chapter 6: Pu Luo Si

"Hello, Mr. Pu Luo Si, can <Destiny> VR world really achieve 99% of reality? A single reporter wearing professional suit politely asked.

"Of course, beautiful miss. I have complete faith, that marvelous world will give you enjoyment so much that you would forget it's a VR world." Pu Luo Si answered with gentle smiling face. Although old in age, yet his voice was still 100 percent full with vigor and once in a while his two clear eyes flash brilliantly.

"Development of whole VR games till this day already have over 120 years old history. And around these few years, even the most popular <the second world> only lasted for only 7 years. Mr. Pu Luo Si, how far do you think this <Destiny> world could possibly walk?"

The old eyes of Pu Luo Si slightly narrowed, "If I must think the perfect time limit then I hope it lasts.....forever." His amiable voice was as before with a thin smile but his old face covered with wrinkles however flashed for an instant which no one was able to perceive.

"Since <Destiny> world is integrated with alien science and technology, what type of worldview is there and is it quite similar to previous big VR games or completely different?"

"Worldview?" Pu Luo Si considered once, rock his head and expression slowly turned serious and said, "The worldview will not be much different but when I think of explaining, what I most speak about is, although this is a simulation game but I hope public don't regard it simply as a VR game rather treat as their own another life. As a matter of fact, life can be considered a game full of ups and downs but only a little different is life cannot be save in a file and unlikely to have chance to start over again. But.....whatever happens don't attempt to leave game life. Remember this VR game name is —————Destiny!"

Scene of news conference suddenly became strangely quiet, Pu Luo Si suddenly became severe and his voice was serious as well as that faint existence of warning implication let them be silent and savor every word of his explanation. But.....not a single one who could truly understand his words' implication was present there....at least at that location.

"Hello Mr. Pu Luo Si, at this time peoples of entire world all are discussing and guessing who is the main mastermind behind <Destiny>, is it possible to disclose, Mr. Pu Luo Si?"

Pu Luo Si shook his head and said apologetically: "Sorry this is a secret that cannot be disclosed, however (he smiled secretly) what I can say is that the main mastermind behind <Destiny> is not on earth. Is this answer good enough to satisfy everyone?"

Not on earth.... then is it out of space? Immediately the words of Pu Luo Si caused everyone worldwide excited.

"Mr. Pu Luo Si, all along all players are mostly paying close attention to one question which is whether it will be fair or not. Please may I ask if destiny world is fair to a perfect level?" A male reporter get up and asked.

No matter the people at the news conference or other, the all wanted to know whether this game is fair or not so this question is always asked in all previous VR games on the history as if it is a formality and all the VR games had vowed guaranteed fairness. But Pu Luo Si remained silence for a long time facing this reporter who asked this question then in the midst of everyone's stare he slowly said, "In this world, there is not any absolute real fairness."

"This....." getting this unexpected answer, the male reporter was completely dumbfounded.

"God made everyone equal, as far as I can see this sentence is most absurd, funny and ridiculous. Perhaps many people will oppose and despise me for this sentence, but I will remind you some basic facts.....child born in a rural area make great effort for their whole life for the sake of having a city livelihood. And for the child directly born in the city, his starting point is directly at the final objective of former, is this fair? Some life are born with some part missing but some are born with perfect physique and appearance. As well as even if the starting point of two different individuals is identical, one by himself make great effort for half his life to get stable household, while another lazy individual however wins a lottery and is set for his life without any great effort, is this fair? All along in this world there is no absolute fairness, real world don't have and <Destiny> also don't have. I can only guarantee that all the players will have same starting point——equal free attributes points and equal fixed categories points in the beginning, you can follow your wish and choose your vocation that will follow you for life.....as for after this, only God knows how each player will experience in <Destiny>."

Silence, for a long time there was only silence, after silence there was thunderous clapping. The explanation of Pu Luo Si about fair starting point however compared to past pledge seems even more convincing. It convinced many people, at the same time also voice out countless people’s heartfelt wishes of how the world is unfair.

“Mr. Pu Luo Si, <Destiny> world has already got the all-out support of the government of all countries and also of 10 biggest bank of the world, therefore like in all other previous games, will the problem in exchange system of game currency and real currency likely to appear?” Another reporter asked. ‘All-out support’ these 4 word represent extreme weight. It offer ‘support’ is only difference in a line however the meaning of this two gives completely different notion. [In Chinese ‘all-out support have 4 character: 全力支持]

“Hehe, this one is also particularly important announcement. Long time ago, I and Alpha have already discussed and calculated the issue of currency exchange, from receiving to payment of <Destiny> world currency are already calculated in strict order. So real currency exchange will absolutely not disappoint anyone. This point, I can guarantee right here. In addition, once currency exchange is opened, the fairness of game will be reduced. Rich player compare to average player will get many advantage, therefore in order to delay this unfairness for some time, currency exchange will not be implemented immediately. As to how long, currently it is not decided yet.”

“We’ve got personal guarantee of Mr. Pu Luo Si, all the players can have faith in it and be at ease.....”

This whole time, Ye Tian Xie watched news conference like a wooden puppet until it ended. When this conference ended, it was exactly 12 in the noon. Ye Tian Xie turned off the television, laid on the sofa and press the button on the wrist band console with his finger.....suddenly, at that moment world changed into blank space and again changed into same prior location of colorful game world.

“Ding.....welcome to Destiny world, your game character is already established, 43 seconds until the opening of game, please wait a moment.....”

This voice and the voice he heard before was clearly not identical. Obviously there is huge numbers of players and system also had huge number of NPC receptionist. Probability to run into same individual is very small.

“.....still 30 seconds left, please wait a moment.....”

“.....10, 9, 8.....3, 2, 1.....welcome to the destiny world, you are allocated to number 60001 beginning village, wish you happy gameplay.”

Chapter 7: Beginner Village

After the sound stopped, suddenly before Ye Tian Xie's eyes the sky and earth spine round, the world started to switch over in a high speed.

He did not detect, also impossible to notice, at the time he was transmitted to beginner village, the strange pendant that was hanging in his neck also quietly disappeared into his body.

Vision was still not recovered, and the chaotic sound made his eardrum suffer pain. He opened his eyes and looked forward, in his line of sight he only saw people after people. All together there was hundred thousand beginner village in Chinese region. Nevertheless China had largest population which caused these beginner village crowded full to the brim with players. Flashes of new players entering was also continuously twinkling without halting for a second. Being first and being the earliest is the law for every strong players because everyone wants to be the first to step foot in this mysterious world.

The vision of Ye Tian Xie swept over the crowd and observe all around his surroundings. This place was an ancient town with the unusual feature of ancient China from over 1000 years ago. Eaves all used yellow colored tiles and all houses were of single colored antique wooden structure. Here the atmosphere was pure, fresh and delightful and the air was not contaminated. He raised his head, looked at azure blue colored sky with random floating clouds. The sky here not only not was not polluted but also not have any long mark in the sky like in real world. [Mentioned in chapter 1, when he was in the line to take console]

Beginner village, the starting point for almost all the players must be first experienced in any game world. And the appearance of Ye Tian Xie immediately caused him to become focal point of the crowd. He had the appearance which could be rated as perfect and towards any female it possessed deadly attractiveness and charm of evil monster.....after increasing 20% of his attractiveness. That crude beginner clothes not even cover a bit of his glamour, he had just recently stood there, but he already started to hear continuous sound of males' sigh and voice of females' shriek.

Ye Tian Xie was not too fond of noisy individuals you could even say he is cold, indifference and xenophobic individual. He didn't like majority of players and like other players he didn't run around the beginner village so that he could trigger a quest but he decided to push through this crowd and directly move towards outside of beginner village.

Finally he arrived at a quiet corner and take a glance at his outfit..... and in almost all of the starting point of VR games, they were only given a crude clothing whose attribute is negligible.....

Novice cloth: Equipment Requirements: None, Grade: pale white, Property: Defense +2.

Novice pants: Equipment Requirements: None, Grade: pale white, Property: Defense +1.

Novice shoes: Equipment Requirements: None, Grade: pale white, Property: Defense +1.

All equips in his body merely increase 4 points in defense and nothing more. He thought of checking his inventory. This inventory could be called freely by one's own will and it 50 slots at the moment. Inside his inventory there was only single long and thin sword. He conjured it in his hand.

Novice sword: Equipment Requirement: None, Grade: pale white, Property: Attack +3

Ye Tian Xie turned around and walk towards outside of beginner village at the same time carefully checked his initial status.

Seeing 'none' word behind the vocation, brows of Ye Tian Xie slightly moved once then again at once smooth out. Pu Luo Shi said that in this world there is nothing absolutely fair. He didn't have novice vocation but even if he didn't have any additional attribute and any skills of novice vocation, he had the ability to reach far higher than other.

"<Destiny>, is it? Destiny is in the hands of strong." He calmly thought and continue to move ahead.

Like his expectation, most of the beginner players were already crowding the surroundings of beginner village. There is no doubt that this region is lower level monster active zone which is also suitable to level up level 0 beginners. But at first glance except the bustling of crowd, there was no trace of any monster.

Finally, a single weak white light flashed once, and a single small creature appeared under the foot of groups of players, Ye Tian Xie looked at it and cast his only skill 'inspect', suddenly the information on the creature appeared:

Angry chicken Level: 01, HP: 30, a group of agitated chicks, occasionally make attacks against humanity.

Just when information on small creature appeared in his mind, the monster was already killed by the attack of group of players. Seeing that pitiful remains of the body and completely scattered feather, he shook his head and thought, "what to do, I absolutely want to cook chicken."

Coincidentally the two players whom he passed by one side, looked at his departing back with a blank expression

Ye Tian Xie didn't wish to go to the location having many people, so he went straight to the north, along the way he crossed 2 monster map with level 2-3 monsters. The amount of players was clearly decreasing compared to before. Just when he was passing through a small leopard territory, suddenly he have a kind of cheerful sensation.....finally before his eyes he saw a piece of land without many players. There was only a small group of players who took up a small terrain, and all of them were female and there was not a single male in that group.

And monsters here somewhat unusual and bigger——turned out to be rabbit who were half the size of human, they were standing and swaggering without any objective with a single sturdy club on their shoulders. Ye Tian Xie approached them without alerting anyone.

He shook his hand and there appeared a novice sword, and go towards a single rabbit and before attacking, he used his only skill 'Inspect':

Big Fierce Rabbit: Level 3, HP: 70, due to the slight effect of leakage of magic air from the destiny tower, underneath those likeable and harmless looks conceal quite serious violent tendency. Due to short and small figure, they are usually attack between the leg.

Skills: big wooden club swing: lift up the big club of the shoulder and firmly attack the enemies in the place between two legs. Male will get additional 40% damage with low chance of instant death.

The face of Ye Tian Xie turned black, he obediently held back his sword, put it away and retreated several steps. Afterwards turned his head and walk away.

No wonder there was not a single male player around, this 'big fierce rabbit' was clearly for female players and system made it in order to compensate female players for their disadvantage against male players when leveling up.

Chapter 8: Fighting the Wolf!

Further ahead, finally the number of players sharply fell, and he proceed ahead until he did not see any presence of other players. This was level 5 monster area and all the monsters from level 5 onward take the initiate to attack. Since the VR game was opened just a moment ago and was in initial stage, this place was like forbidden area for ordinary players. Level 3 monsters area is their limit, this applied for only ordinary players.

Ye Tian Xie was about to advance a step to the territory of monsters, suddenly from the corner of his eyes he caught the sight of a person silhouette. He turned his body to look which stunned him as he saw a single person unexpectedly sitting on his right hand side near the bush. She sat by a tree and her body was excessively dried-up, thin and small. Also her face was as dried up as bark of tree, her whole body resembled a tree and she seems to mix with the surroundings which made even Ye Tian Xie hard to notice her.

Single skinny old lady.....is she NPC of this world? Ye Tian Xie walked towards her.

"Is there anything I can help you with?" he squeeze out a deformed gentle smile on his face and asked. If his question was straightforward it would be like this, "all the mission you have, hand over to me!"

After he finish speaking, at once his expression changed back into sluggish as he noticed that old lady who was sitting cross-legged on the ground motionless.....her exposed bare part of the legs appeared to be dull grey in color.

Petrified.....rapidly in his brain this two word appeared. [石化 means petrified, 2 words/character]

"Core energy of this world——eternal moment of the destiny is gone, do not know where it drift and fall, without the power of eternal moment of destiny, the destiny tower seal is finally collapsing. All of the 8 archfiend escaped, spreading of magic gas outside started to affect all the land which caused even the docile animals to become violent.....adventurer from different world, is it possible to assist me, I need 10 wolf eyes....but my body is sealed here and cannot move. Are you willing to help me?"

"Ding.....sealed old lady requested you to gather 10 wolf eyes. Mission class: ordinary, Mission time limit: nil, Mission reward: unknown."

"I accept." Without any hesitation he accepted the mission. Although this mission was ordinary class but the reward was 'unknown' made him little bit interested. In the initial stage, there are many things remain unexplained in this mysterious world. And all the explanations are concealed within game, this was what his sharp intuition which he had developed by playing VR games for many years told him.

"Ding....you have accepted the request of sealed old lady..."

"Can you tell me why your legs become like this?" Ye Tian Xie did not immediately leave to hunt wolf rather squat down and asked her with a kind and gentle face. In the explanation of the mission, the word 'unknown' had made him interested therefore he was also greatly interested in the name of this old lady. At <Destiny> world, all the people have their own independent thought. But he had full 10 points in charms and unlikely to add many points later so he made great effort to try to know what the reward was from this old lady.

"Youngster, you should go. Some matters not knowing beforehand is better." Old woman replied coldly.

"That.....if it is inconvenient to move then I can carry you to the beginner village, is it ok?" he hesitate and said.

"My body is unable to leave here, Thank you for your kindness. You should go now."

"Well." He gave up, "where is the nearest place where group of wolf appear?"

"Ahead."

"Well, I will immediately come back after I got the things you required."

Leaving behind a sentence, he looked all around and continued forward towards deeper place. Now the climate of <Destiny> world was clearly spring. Soft and gentle breeze against his face slowly made his hear warm. Since his official step on the gaming industry started, his first kill when he was level 0 was always level 5 or higher monsters which made people dumbfounded. Only by doing this, his talent that could close the gap made by huge difference of level could be seen and also this was the only way he could avoid the huge crowd leveling and enjoy quietly by himself.

North Down, Level 5 Wild wolf territory.

Wild wolf: Level 5, HP 170. A kind of brutal animal who like living in groups and take the initiative to lunch attack to any mankind who draws near.

Level 0, with only close to nothing additional attribute of his crude beginner clothing and moreover alone to face level 5 monsters, practically almost all the player of this VR game will think this is same as courting death. Still this was only applied for ordinary players.

Since there was not any players in this area, the wild wolf were everywhere, not even one wolf targeted Ye Tian Xie as he was outside their territory. He advance several steps and probed the hostility range. Afterwards he picked up a stone and threw it towards the nearest wild wolf.

The stone hit the head of the wild wolf which caused a blood red digit (damaged value) to float. Suddenly calm wild wolf became alert and bloody light flashed in its eyes and looked towards the direction of Ye Tian Xie. And subsequently issued a long howl and quickly ran towards his direction.

The movement speed of wolf was very fast, it was at least 1.5 times faster compared to those players who choose agility as a base. The howl of the wolf was not only an angry howl but it also alerted another two wolf. Those two wolf also howled and started to run towards his direction.

Only 3! Seeing only 3 wild wolf approaching him, he didn't choose to withdraw immediately from the wild wolf territory rather narrowed his eye and slowly lift up his novice sword.....

Whooosh!

Even when the violent wind arrived, he was calm and motionless until that sharp wolf's fang was about to touch his waistline. Only at that moment he suddenly tilted his body out of the way almost causing the wolf pass through his body while nearly touching him. For dodging in such a way, timing was most essential as well as the control of the body must be perfect and also should have high experience. This ability was not as simple as it looked and is very hard to accomplish.

Just when first wild wolf was still in the air with failed attack, another gust of wind closely followed after and arrived. He didn't even looked forward and stand calmly. Suddenly he bend the upper part of body backward forming almost ninety degree. At the same time hold his novice sword upward with his right hand....

Riiiip! -15!

The second wild wolf pounce also missed him and similarly hit empty space. And his raised novice sword directly stabbed its belly which made a blood red digit to float. No matter what the VR game, wolf had typical high attack and speed but low defense. This was one of his reason for directly killing wolf. If he now faced with the same level with low attack and speed but high defense ratio bears type monsters, although it is much easier to deal with, but basically impossible to break open its defense at low level.

Third wolf which was closely following second wolf rushed over, he straighten his upper part of the body half way and at the same time he forcefully turned his body with his left leg as a fulcrum and rotate which let the third wolf to pass through him. Taking the advantage of this, he took a steps forward and he stab two times in a row at weak point of the falling second wolf, afterwards 2 blood red digit floated.

At most only 2 seconds passed from the time 3 wolf began to rush and attack together. It was not a simple attack but a joint attack of 3 wolves made Ye Tian Xie to only move his left side and there was not a single damage on him and still was standing in the same position.

Chapter 9: Lolita Guo Guo (Part I)

At <Destiny> world, for the sake of numerous players, when attacking it didn't create any bloody scene or anything like severing head or limbs and so on which could make players unable to endure. Ye Tain Xie had counterattacked the instant he evaded the attacks of 3 wolves and only second wolf was stabbed in the process. Only then they turned their body around awkwardly and pounced back at him again. This time all 3 of them attacked almost at the time. He narrowed his eyes and with his fastest speed he dashed forward and passed through the narrow space in the middle of wolves. In the process of movement, he stabbed the rear part of second wolf body with his sword more than once and two of attack was successful. All the attack of his were concentrated on second wolf.

-13, -15, MISS.

After suffering 5 attacks in a row, the HP of second wolf was already depleted by nearly one third. It finally felt pain, turned around howling and once more rushed to bite but once again as if he knew every movement of wolves beforehand, he lowered his body and with his right leg pressed on the ground, unexpectedly maintained extremely low flat position before sliding the distance of nearly 2 meters.

If right now there were any other players here, they would be stunned and surprised, a single player of Level 0 with only a beginner equips, unexpectedly fighting alone with 3 level 5 monsters as well as he had landed continuous dozen or more attack but 3 very powerful monsters could not even touch him.

And what's more is, he had not even used a single skill.

Even Level 0 players had a vocation and also had that vocation skills. All other players had those with the exception of Ye Tian Xie. He have neither of those so he could only chop, hack and stab with his novice sword.....

At the attacks of 3 wolves, Ye Tian Xie body was only swaying just like a ghost shadow and waving his novice sword time to time which was causing wolves to howl. After half minute, the only wolf which he was concentrating on attacking let out its final howl and fell down and at the same time some things like a coin appeared with a faint rays of light.

Only 2 left. Ye Tian Xie tense nerve relax a bit, stance changed from passive to active and directly rushed forward and cut the throat of the wolf with his novice sword. If this was real world then without a doubt his sword would have severed the head of the wolf.

-12, -12, -14, -13, -12.....

Even holding a stick, expert martial artist could easily defeat ordinary person holding a godly sharp weapon.

That innate attributes (reaction, perception and focus) of Ye Tian Xie which exceed other people by many times, at the moment was his one of the largest capital in this game world. With that repeated attacks of not too powerful novice sword, again another wolf gave a sorrowful howl and fell down. He had a proud simile on his face, after that he slowly trampled on the last remaining wolf.....that's right a single level 0 player with novice equips trampled on a single level 5 monster.

-15, -14.....

Finally when the HP of last wolf was almost empty, at that moment he let the wolf claw to hit him on his body.

He felt strand of slight pain at the contact point of the wolf claw, he look above his head for damage point and without extra trouble he disposed the wolf with his sword.

All 3 wild wolves were killed, he let out a small sigh and sweep around his glance once. Beside the first killed wolf which dropped coin like things, other wolf didn't dropped anything. Let alone wolf eye not even wolf hair was dropped. Only the corpse was left behind. His luck was 0, that's why drop rate from the monsters were at minimum.

He crouch down to pick up the coins and was speechless to see the words marked above. Facing a huge danger and putting up a life-and-death battle and moreover killing a level 5 monster only got him a single copper coin.....if converted it into real currency then it is a single penny.

【Destiny world, single gold coin = 10 silver gold coin = 100 copper coin. According to government official propaganda, after currency exchange is opened, 1 gold coin = 1 Chinese currency.】

His first earning in this Destiny world entered his inventory. After that he turned over to the dead body of wolf then something came up in his mind...wolves eye, for taking the things from the monsters dead body, you need "harvesting skill". He had forgotten about this.

According to his past experiences, these basic survival skills could be learned from the village head of beginner village.

When he prepared to make a round trip to the novice village, he felt something familiar touching his chest which suddenly caused him motionless. He stretch his hand and put it on his neck and there he could trace out familiar string.

This is.....

He pulled that string a bit, suddenly the black color pendant which he had worn every day, not even in his sleep it got separated from his body, appeared out of his novice clothes. He hold it in his hand and stared blankly at that unique pendant for a long time and in his vision emerged a complex emotion.

This is the only thing that she left for me.....why did it appear here!? Here, is it not destiny world?

Before because of novice clothing he had not notice anything. And at the time he stood up from couching, this pendant slightly stick to his chest causing slightly cold sensation made him aware of something extraordinary. There was no difference between the pendant he wore in the real world and this. Even the holes and the unique character of emitting faint 7 color dim light was any different.

What is going on!? Why did the real thing appeared here?

This completely goes against the common sense!

When he was thinking, suddenly the black pendant in his hand glimmered with white light. That sudden rays of light was somewhat intense and that sudden flash blinded Ye Tian Xie. Just when his vision came back, unexpectedly that white radiance slowly went above and before his stunned gaze, this light slowly floated like a small size white sun in the air before his own eyes.

“Oh la la.....ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! I’m free at last la, free at last la, oh la la la la!”

Ye Tian Xie will forever unlikely to forget this youthful, sweet and pleasing to hear voice but also flippant and impudent to the point that would make peoples wish to seal their ears. Because the owner of this voice and him would be entangled throughout all his life, making him helpless and headache. He cannot wait to put her underneath and spank her butt.

White colored radiance became weak and dissipated and a single delicate pretty silhouette appeared before Ye Tian Xie. This was a little girl with a pitch-black hair, diamond like eyes, clear skin and flawless skin with pure white dress.....this was indeed a little girl, not only she appeared to be about 12 or 13 in age, even her height was only 30 cm.

Ye Tian Xie eyes widened like he had seen a ghost. Anyone who caught the sight of the appearance of this kind of little girl with such outrageous voice, without a doubt their reaction will be among these two——one is stunned while other is to think whether this was a dream or not.

Chapter 10: Lolita Guo Guo (Part II)

When that little girl saw Ye Tian Xie, her pair of dark eyes suddenly flashed, like a twinkling small stars, "yi ya ya, are you my master? Ooh la la, seems like my thought was wrong 'sigh', I had thought my master would be a long-bearded lolicon uncle oh."

"Why!?" he didn't even know himself how this word came out from his mouth.

"Because I am so loveable little Lolita, if some lolicon uncle was my master then he would absolutely dote on me and give me delicious things to eat.....huh? Ooh....." that little girl nipped her fingers and made great effort for a moment to remember and finally with a bright light said, "ah, ooh la! It seems to be called lollipop!"

The emotion of Ye Tian Xie was twitching and in his mind, he was feeling that it was getting harder to breathe.

"yi ya ya, master, my name is Guo Guo, most loveable and most well-behaved little Lolita Guo Guo in the world. And what is your name, master? Ooh la la! Master don't need to tell me your name as most intelligent Lolita Guo Guo had already seen master name is Xie Tian. Ooh la la, well it's also an odd name." Little girl with little body turned gracefully around in the air as if she was showing her loveable body to Ye Tian Xie. Her body was quite small however looking closely at her little face you could see incomparably refined and loveable face without a single flaw which do not have trace of any mortal world's perfect beauty. Slender figure underneath the clothes, the skin of her delicate bare legs were just like a snow and her toes were just like a pearl.

Guo Guo (Fruit Fruit).....your name is the strange one here! Ye Tian Xie resolutely thought this in his mind. Then he took the initiative to ask, "Who are you?"

Where did she come from? Hidden monster? No its not, inspect skill didn't showed any information on her. Hidden NPC? Can NPC really talk like this with other people? And also just now it seems like she had appeared from the rays of lights of this pendant.

"Ooh la la, I have already said, I am Guo Guo, most loveable and most well-behaved little Lolita Guo Guo in the world." The little girl body moved ahead, fluttering slightly approached Ye Tian Xie. Atter that she blinked her stars like eyes and asked, "Master, Can you give me a lollipop to eat."

"Do you know what lollipop is?"

"Ooh la, I don't know anything about it and you?"

".....that you still ask!" he nearly collapse. Here in <Destiny> world there would not be things like lollipop. And also the whole body of this little girl had indescribable feeling of strangeness.....

"Eh? But she told me lollipop is most cherish food of Lolita and I am most lovable Lolita Guo Guo in this world. Therefore I thought of eating it.....Master, you are my master 'sigh'! To have such lovable Lolita, this ought to be greatest fortune of master. So you should dote this Lolita." The little girl said with an innocent face.

Ye Tian Xie, ".....who is she?"

"Ooh la! I won't tell you!" little girl replied in a blink of an eye.

"....."

"Fine." Ye Tian Xie walked out from wild wolf territory, while walking he said, "If you answer some of my question, I will give you lollipop to eat."

"Wa! Really? What is that important question, Master?" Little girl who was following him, excitedly dance with joy.

"Why do you call me master?" He asked.

"Because you are my master?" Guo Guo replied with a surprise.

Three black line appeared in his forehead, he calmly asked, "Why did I became your master?"

"Because you are the first person Guo Guo saw. The first person whom Guo Guo saw is Guo Guo's master!"

First person to see? In the midst of his brain he was replaying the thought process of this little girl.....don't tell me she really appeared from the only thing left behind by her? Why did she appeared here.....what profound mystery is hidden here?

"Do you appeared from inside this?" He stopped his steps, raise that black color pendant on his chest and asked. This pendant was still emitting faint dim 7 color radiance.

"Ooh la la, correct. Master have seen it himself." Little girl replied.

"Then why are you in this place? Actually what is this?" He took the pendant and lift it up near the face ofGuo Guo. It had a strange appearance and color which once caused him to attempt to find its secret. Because this was the only thing left behind by her, he never parted this from his body.

"Ooh la! I don't know. Don't you know about it master?" With an innocent face she asked.

If I had known, then I wouldn't have ask you.....he resolutely thought in his mind. He also can't help but think if there was someone else in his place what their reaction would be.

"What do you know then?" He asked helplessly, eyes still on that black pendant. He had once yearned to know what was hidden inside of it so that he could know the reason, she had leave him.

There are a lot of things in the world that cannot be described with common sense, there are also many wonderful things in the world that cannot be comprehend. For instance, his meeting with her and her sudden departure, another example is the emergence of.....weird little girl. His surprise lasted only a short time, began trying to find the reasons. Perhaps, this was something to do with his thirst to know the answer.

However obviously, this calling of 'master' was misgiving. Moreover on the surface it looked like it was easy to cheat her but it was not easy to cheat her. No matter how loveable and well-behaved she looked, her eyes were shining with cleverness.....she is definitely cunning.

"What do I know.....ah." Guo Guo turned his head, faced her little face upward and thought for a while. Afterward made troubled expression and said, "I know.....if master thought 'destiny of moment' in his heart one time, you can have quite unimaginable item Ooh."

Ye Tian Xie was shocked, 'Destiny of moment', this word where exactly had he heard. He shut his eyes and softly said in his heart, "Destiny of moment!"

That unusual pendant in his hand suddenly shine with a dim white light and started to amplify before his eyes, then again amplify and amplify.....

Heavy feeling came from the hands, Ye Tian Xie had lifeless look in his eyes and stared blankly at huge monster in the middle of his hand. Still the same narrow irregular shape, the same seven different shaped hole, also reflecting the dim 7 colors, but it's already far big compare to the size before. Nearly 30 centimeters of breadth let it already exceed practically all type of weapons in length and more over comparable to Ye Tian Xie in height. Original strange string was snapped off and its one end was connected to pendant while other end of strap was in the gasp of the hands of Ye Tian Xie. It was just like holding a exotic unusual weapon.

This is.....

Chapter 11 : Eternal Destiny of Moment

“Ooh la la! See see, most lovable Lolita Guo Gou would never deceive people.” Guo Gou who was proud of herself let out her laughter. Obviously this clear and melodious sweet-sounding laughter could make people happy, but simultaneously urge people to clog her mouth.

Ye Tian Xie didn't bother with her, his eyes were glued to his hand where his most precious thing had turned into a monstrous thing. Still underneath this calm surface there was more and more profound and fearful secrets were hidden.

When he saw its attribute, unexpectedly its name was actually.....

‘Eternal destiny of moment!’

“The core energy of this world——eternal moment of the destiny is gone, do not know where it drift and fall, without the power of eternal moment of destiny, the destiny tower seal is finally collapsing. All of the 8 archfiend escaped, spreading of magic gas outside started to affect all the land which caused even the docile animals to become violent.....”

The several line that were mumbled by old woman with both of her leg petrified, reverberated in through his mind. She had mentioned ‘eternal destiny of moment’ ——core energy of this world?

And what amazed him even more was, the thing with this name turned out to be.....the weapon in his hand!

Ye Tian Xie, “!!!!”

This is the so called ‘eternal destiny of moment’, without his any consent it had forcibly already bounded to him as a weapon, even his hand was slightly trembling. Unexpectedly its offensive power had already far outstripped the attacking power of level 20 ordinary weapon. Even more directly added all together 40 points in basic attributes which is equivalent to 8 levels—as players get 5 basic attribute points per level up! And what was even more powerful was its final peculiar ability which unexpectedly made normal attack could attack multiple targets within its range. He had not seen this ability even in the strongest weapons of <Lift up the heaven> and <Murder God>. And its grade was ‘faerie’! Also it had ‘favor of destiny’ which add full 30 points in fixed attributes so there was no complain about it being evaluated as faerie grade! You should know increasing fixed attributes are very hard, in addition even equips with fixed attribute are very few. For example, in <Lift up the heaven> it is said that highest level accessory at most only added 3 points in fixed attributes.

And this ‘eternal destiny of moment’ adds all together 30 points in these fixed attributes which most people will find unbelievable!

Pale white, steel, bronze, silver and gold are basic classification from low to high grade of equips of destiny world. Gold grade is the dividing line in this classification, from this grade upwards are super rare equips which grades are faerie, heaven, mysterious god, saint destroyer and absolutely forbidden. These are the classification grade of all equips in destiny world.

From gold grade onwards, faerie is the beginning. Majority of unique ability only starts to emerge from gold grade onwards, this shows how precious Faerie grade equips are. Countless players thirst for a piece of 'faerie' grade equips and possessing a 'heaven' grade equips is enough to run amuck. 'Mysterious god' grade equips are enough to break balance within players, probability for its appearance is next to nothing. 'Saint Destroyer' is only legend, only very few people had ever seen it. And 'absolutely forbidden'.....this is only a folklore passed from mouth to mouth. This 2 words 'absolutely forbidden' means, it should not appear as it could break the equilibrium of the whole world.

However, at the beginning of this game, he was actually holding a Faerie grade equip in his hand, imagine how big the shock it would trigger, if the news about him obtaining Faerie grade equip were known.

Even so, these were not the things his was most concerned about, he was more concern about why did the thing she left appeared here, why is there a weird little girl and why core energy of the world 'eternal destiny of moment' which was lost appeared?

"Ooh la la! Master, isn't it cool? Hee hee, this is my gift to master ooh, do master like it?"

The voice of Guo Guo made him snap out of his thoughts, his corner of the mouth slightly twitched.....although incredible, but originally this was his, when did you give me!

"Master, now can you give me lollipop to eat? I want good food.....good food to eat....."

The floating body of little Guo Guo was swaying lightly, her tiny figure, at the time of swaying released a kind of aesthetic feeling which was enough to make people suffocated as well as her voice could make the bones of whole body to go limp. Ye Tian Xie was almost defeated by this spell. Clearly this little girl did not wish to eat food, did not know where she heard about lollipop but she want to eat a lollipop to satisfy her unusual pride as Lolita.....

"What is destiny of moment?" Ye tian Xie asked.

"Well destiny of moment..... yi ya! Master didn't give me lollipop to eat so I will not tell master!" Guo Gou slightly pursed her lips and originally smiling broadly gesture instantly changed to fuming with anger gesture.

".....Since you call me master, you should listen to my words!"

"yi ya? Why should I listen to you just because I call you master?"

".....Do you know what the meaning of master is?"

"I don't know so what!"

".....then why do you call me master?"

"I don't know!"

Chapter 12: Crying Lovely Lolita and Callous Master

Ye Tian Xie could not help but worry himself whether this strange little girl was mentally all right or not. He forced his attention to divert toward the dead body of the wolf which was not too far and once more entered the wild wolves' territory. He was holding 'eternal destiny of moment' with extreme appearance which would cause other people first sight to notice not him but rather this strange weapon in his hand. That was not a sword, not a dagger and not a blunt arms but an irregular indescribable weapon whose whole body was pitch-black with curve appearance, Furthermore it release 7 distinct color from its hole.....this confirms that no matter what, where and in whose hand, it would become focus point.

The combined length of 'Eternal destiny of moment' and his arm gave him at least 2m of attack range. At present he basically no longer needed to be careful while drawing hostility of a single wolf to avoid other wolves' hostility. So he directly charged into the concentrated group of wolf. A single step inside their hostility range cause their eyes which was twinkling with blood colored light to lock on to him and started to charge towards him.

He wielded 'Eternal destiny of moment' which drew pitch-black arc parallel to the ground. This single attack sweep away 3 wild wolves who were running in the front at the same time. -85, -87, -85, simultaneously 3 bright red digit floated in the air. At present Ye Tian Xie had hundreds of method to deal with this crowd of wild wolves and didn't have any pressure like before. He continued to attack these 3 wolves without retreating a single step, continuously wield his two weapons. In no time at all the 3 wolves simultaneously fell on the ground.

"Ooh la la! Master is great. All these little monsters overthrow, overthrow them!”

The voice of Guo Guo, can't help but made Ye Tian Xie mind messy when he was surrounded by 5 wolves. He hurriedly moved from that location causing the claw attack of remaining two wild wolf to attack each other. After that he continuously attacked these two wolves. After he killed these wolves, a sound finally rang in his ear.

“Ding.....your level raised to lvl 1, HP +10, MP +10, gained 5 basic attributes point.” He added all these 5 basic attributes points to strength. His attack value immediately broke 100 points, now he only need 3 hit to kill a wild wolf and occasionally only 2 hits will be enough.

Leveling up in <Destiny> is very hard, only by killing 9 level 5 wolves, he was able to level up by lvl1. And to reach level 2 from level 1 needed 10 times the experience values which was needed to level up to level 1. 100 points of experience was need to level up from lvl0 to lvl1 so whole 1000 points of experience was needed to level up to lvl2. So it was not an overstatement to say leveling in this game is hardest in all history of VR gaming.

Again another two wild wolves fell simultaneously in front of him. When he looked around, his surroundings was already starting to pile up the corpse of the wild wolves. He had picked up the several coins which was total of 5 copper coin and nothing more. Because of 'favor of destiny' he now had 10 points in luck which clearly made drop rate better compared to before. But the system was still stingy. What made one angry was, let alone equips it didn't even drop a single recovery potion, only dropped few coins.

Walking on the territory of wild wolf, he already planned to temporary return to the beginner village to learn 'collect' skill and finish the mission. Possessing this extraordinary 'eternal destiny of moment' was still making him feel if he was still in a dream and everything was not real. Suddenly he had an idea, he tried to recall back this 'eternal destiny of moment' like any other normal equips, then at once that huge weapon disappeared from his vision. However it didn't returned to his inventory, rather morphed into pendant state and returned to his chest, hanging in a strange black thread on his neck.

There is always something strange in the world that cannot be understand. This 'eternal destiny of moment' which morphed into a pendant state in his possession, what great secret did it hold he was temporary unable to know. Still what did its appearance signify, he didn't know but, at present even though he didn't have any vocation, his starting point is much higher than other players.

Is it fair or unfair?

"yi ya! Master, where are you going?" Seeing Ye Tian Xie turned to south, Guo Guo immediately followed behind him by floating. Her hovering height was similar to the height of his shoulder. She didn't have any wings, nor she made any gesture with hand, but she was floating like a group of cotton that is floating in the wind.

"Returning back." He answered with heavy heart as all the strange things that happened before was repetitively flashing in his mind.

"Back where? Is that place fun? Or going to master house?"

"Master, you still have not given me lollipop to eat. I am most cherished, most lovely Lolita Guo Guo, how can I not eat lollipop."

"....."

"yi ya! You are being rude master! 'Sigh' I, such a lovely Lolita is asking you a question and unexpectedly you are not paying attention! Hey! Wicked master, didn't you hear what I have saidla!"

All his thoughts were distrusted and finally he reached the end of his patience, he paused his steps and swing his hand and directly grabbed this floating little girl. Suddenly a type of soft and warm sensation came through his hand, this caused his hand to relax a bit involuntarily. With a cold face and fierce voice he said, "Do not speak again!!"

All together the body of Guo Guo was only 30 cm long, his single hand with ease caught her from waist until her lower legs. Her eyes open wide, body became stiff and was clearly terrified. Then her eyes began to filled with tears and from her delicate mouth release a sound 'wa.....' and begin to cry loudly.

"wu wa!! You're bulling me, you're bulling me.....you're bulling me!!"

His ears started to hurt by her loud weeping voice and her tears were pouring down like a floodwater. In the blink of an eye his side were already wet. She cried like she had suffered from one of the world biggest grievance, anyone who heard this cry will sympathize her with all their heart. Her body was very small but the weeping sound was extraordinarily big and at this open area her crying voice spread very far away.

Ye Tian Xie's scalp was already tingling and he was slightly alarmed and bewildered. This hoarse sound of weeping absolutely didn't have any trace of faking, even that downpour of tears is not possibly fake and that mournful sound which was like suffering from most cruel grievance in the world caused his cold expression to crumble. He hastily let go of her, carried her with both of his hand and lowered his head to her side and used the softest voice he could produce and said, "fine, fine, I was wrong, don't cry Guo Guo....."

The body of Guo Guo was very light like it didn't have any weight. He had never before thought that one day he would have to coax a small girl. His comfort not only not have any effect on Guo Guo on contrary she cried even louder, "wu wu.....you bullied me! You bullied me!"

"Good girl, it was my fault. Hereafter I will never again bully Guo Guo, all right?" He made a great effort to squeeze out most gentle simile he could and said. It had already been a long time since he had a smiling expression therefore causing his face to become seriously out of shape.

"wu.....lie lie, how can you be so bad like that? I am this lovely and obedient, how can you bully me.....wu wa!" Guo Guo still cried loudly. That down pouring of tears again completely made his hand damp. Not only his mouth was twitching but also his heart was already twitching. From youngest to eldest, in all his memories, he had never before in his whole life comforted.....anyone.

"If Guo Guo stop crying, I will never bully most lovely and most smart Lolita Guo Guo in the whole world ever again, all right?" He racked his brains to think comforting words and forced himself to speak these words. After he finished speaking, he almost felt that all of his beliefs were toppled by himself. He can only pray this world to quiet down immediately.

As if the world had heard his prayer, it really quiet down so fast that he could hardly recover from shock. Guo Guo sparkling and crystal-clear tear drops were still pouring but her eyes were opened wide and contained a splendor as if she had heard exceedingly touching sentence. Still the sound of weeping stopped and even before that the expression of incomparable grievance was also completely gone. Then with very stern tone she said, "Ooh la! Is master really speaking truth?"

".....really." He with great difficulties forced himself to squeeze out this word from between his teeth. A second before there was a violent storms, and a second after there is intense sunlight. Now he began to doubt himself whether or not he had fallen into the trap.

"Wa wa!" Little Guo Guo cheered with the face which still had some droplets of tears. Overjoyed she said, "master must keep his promise.....oh! I want to eat lollipop....."

Ye tian Xie, "....."

Chapter 13: Strange Ability of Guo Guo

Even though this little girl didn't know what lollipop is, she was still nagging about lollipop which was extremely moronic behavior. Therefore he thought when she mention lollipop it was intelligent to maintain silence. It seems this small, harmless, simple and pure girl had her own little thought. Despite his many indirect approach to get the answer of why did 'destiny of moment' exist and also why did she call him master but either her answer was 'I will not tell you' or it was 'Ooh la la, I really don't know!"

Beginner village.

Standing at beginner village entrance, they looked at that huge crowd going in and out. Facing towards the entrance together with him, Guo Guo who was standing on his shoulder was silent and casting a sidelong glance. This sight raised at least additional 20% to his already good appearance with evil monster charm and gave a dangerous flavor. No matter where he went he was the focus point of their gaze——still none of those gaze was focused on Guo Guo who was on his shoulder.

Could it be that at <Destiny> world, staff will have this kind of tiny thing? He can't help but think, then at once he firmly strangled this brainless guess.

"Guo Guo, they can't see you, can they?" He asked.

"Ooh la! Master is quite intelligent. I am the most lovely and cute little Lolita, how could catching the sight of me be this easy. Guo Guo is very powerful so if only I am unwilling then no one can see me and also touch me. Now only master can see and touch me ooh.” She looked triumphant and grinning told him. Clearly other payers not only not see her, they even couldn’t hear her voice. Not a single player looked at her direction when she spoke.

He used a strange gaze to take a glance of that small girl on his shoulder. He didn’t know what or how many other strange abilities and secrets this girl with unknown origin was hiding in her little body.

“Then can you return inside this?” He pointed at the pendant in front of his chest. Guo Guo had appeared from inside of this, since she can come out then maybe she could return too.

“Of course, I can la. Inside is dark, very dark so I will never go back.” She bit her lower flat lip, used her small hand to play with her soft and supple hair and look around the scenery and stream of peoples with here black eyes.

He no longer asked any question and took a step inside beginner village. Many little birds like a little sprite were chirping and his surrounding was full of ancient China, these feature could make many people to have good sensation. Even the corner of the mouth of Ye tian Xie was slightly raised. He wanted to know more about Guo Guo’s origin and about secrets of ‘destiny of moment’ but even if yearned for it now he could do nothing and would be meaningless.

Now it was not even an hour since he had entered this <Destiny> world. That pendant which should not appear in this world had become core energy of this world ‘eternal destiny of moment’. He was already vaguely aware that the contact between him and ‘eternal destiny of moment’ had turned his destiny in this <destiny> world into extraordinary.

At beginning village there were only few houses which were thinly scattered. Even at this moment it was crowded with players but at the time of opening the crowd were far too exaggerated. Old aged village head was standing in the middle of beginner village who was replying to all the players who came to contact with him. Ye Tian xie went in front of Village Head and politely asked, "Hello village head, may I ask if there is anything I can do to help you?"

No matter if it is people of real world or if it is NPC of VR world, politeness is forever essential while talking or asking. Otherwise, maybe the counterpart may not give the mission but rather maybe show ill will. Here in this game world every NPC have independent personality and thought. And even a single NPC is no exception.

"Ding.....thanks to your extraordinary charm, degree of favorable impression of village head of 60001 village of you +20"

This sound of beeping in his ear made him to show his tooth. 10 points he had applied while making his character and another 10 points from 'eternal destiny of moment' made his charm value much more higher than any other players.

The village head was already bored after seeing so many players coming and going but when he saw Ye tian Xie his eyes lit up and smile also floated, "The core energy of this world——eternal moment of the destiny is gone, do not know where it drift and fall, without the power of eternal moment of destiny, the destiny tower seal is finally collapsing. All of the 8 archfiend escaped, spreading of magic gas outside started to affect all the land which caused even the docile animals to become violent....."

The statement of this village head and the statement of that strange old lady was exactly same, enduring his temper he listened and finally his subject changed, "adventurers from different world, I hope to see another hero born from you. Originally meek little chicken is now also infected with terrible magic, are you willing to help me wipe out 30 angry chicken?"

"Ding.....village head of 60001 village requested to help him by killing 30 angry chicken. Mission grade: Common, Time limit: None, Reward: 80 experience and 5 small recovery potion."

This is the basic mission of level 0 players. There was not even a shred of appeal for him, he didn't accept this mission rather he seriously looked at village head and said, "Village head since you hoped for me to become hero, such simple mission is like you are looking down on hero. Think about it, you have already given this same mission to numerous other adventurers. I hope I can acquire the mission which they do not have the ability to complete."

If any other player had asked to change their mission, the village head would have certainly scorn them, would have become impatient and start preaching them or even directly left. But because of the charm value of 20 points, village head was only stunned for a brief moment after that smiled and said, "Fine, you have shown me the pride of hero. Your breath, eyes' expression and your unyielding character all made me believe more and more that you will turn into a real hero, who will resist against that demons. That being the case I will do as you wish."

The sound of cancellation of mission 'hunting Angry chicken' rang in his ears, the smiling expression on mayor's face disappeared, in his face emerged an expression like he was recalling his sentimental cherish memory, "In not too far north there is a Wolf Valley, there are variety of wandering wolves that become violent, bloodthirsty and fierce after they were affected by magic gas, they often sprang out from that valley wolf and brought trouble to the quiet and peaceful original beginner village. That year, my son was as old as you are now. That year, in order to eliminate the risk of this Wolf Valley, he alone went there and then never came back....." He let out a long sigh and said, "Brave adventurer, can you go to Wolf Valley and bring back 100 teeth of fierce wolf. I will use those fierce wolf's teeth to make a tombstone for my son and to pay homage to his bravery and short life."

Chapter 14: Hidden Mission

"Ding.....you have accepted to help village head of 60001 beginner village to gather 100 wolves' fangs.

Mission Grade: Common

Mission time limit: None

Mission rewards: 1000 experience points and a level 5 steel grade equip

Remarks: Originally this mission could be triggered only after completing the basic mission 5 times. You may get extra reward after the completing this mission."

Wolf.....again wolf. Before this wolf's eyes and now it is wolf's fang. He choose to accept it, after that the village head nodded his head and with gratified voice he said, "Youngster, I will be waiting for your triumphant return and hope these things could help you."

"Ding.....you obtained 10 small recovery potion, 5 apples and 5 steamed bun from village head of 60001 beginner village."

Small recovery potion: Instantly restored 100HP, cool down time: 5 seconds, the effect cannot be stacked with similar recovery items.

Apple: A common fruit, recover 50 HP and -10 hunger after eating.

Steamed bun: A common product of wheat flour, recover 10 HP and -30 hunger after eating.

Sure enough, it was a good omen. He put these things away and said to village head, "Thank you village head."

"He he, before that I will teach you a basic survival skill it." Veteran village head waved and at the same time, a dim white light appeared between his hands and his body.

"Ding.....you learned basic 'harvest' skill, can collect low level items from the dead body of monsters."

"Master, Master! It seems like that thing called apple could be eaten ai! I want to eat, I want to eat!" After very difficult comforting, Guo Guo who was finally quite called out in his ear. While listening to village head he quietly whispered, "Do not speak!"

"Oh? What did you just say?" The village head looked puzzled.

At the same time Ye Tian Xie also made puzzled expression and with an innocent look without any flaw he said, "Ah what did I say?"

Village head couldn't help but doubt that his ear had a problem because of old age. He didn't dwell in this problem and smilingly said, "Oh, that's right, blacksmith Lao Wang was looking for someone to help him. You can take a look when you pass by there."

He nodded his head and bid farewell to village head. Afterward he moved towards smithy.

“Wu, master, I want to eat that thing called apple. Master.....you have said that you will not bully most lovely and most obedient Guo Guo ever again, wu.....”

Ye tian Xie could only admit defeat in the face of that delicate and charming immature voice of crying plus that tears that immediately flowed like floodwater from her star like eyes. He took out apple which he had got just a moment ago from his inventory and place it on Guo Guo’s hands. Suddenly Guo Guo nearly dropped on the ground but she stabled herself and floated again.

“Wa! Big Oh, it looks like it taste very good.” She opened her small mouth and exerted herself to take a bite on that apple. Finally with great effort she bit out a small gap in the peel, then delightfully eat it. The sweet taste caused her to issue delightful sound from time to time.

The appearance of a little girl holding and gobbling up an apple which was almost the size of her head could indeed make people delightful and also cannot help but laugh. Even Ye Tian Xie slightly laugh once.

“Hello blacksmith uncle, may I ask if there anything you want me to help.” He entered the blacksmith shop and spoke towards the working blacksmith.

Hearing the sound, blacksmith turned around his dark face and said with a smile, “Hello adventurers from another world, indeed there is one thing where I need your help. Recently forging materials are insufficient, can you help me collect some wild boar's fangs?"

"Ding.....thanks to your extraordinary charm, blacksmith Lao Wang's favorability +20, blacksmith Lao Wang ask you to help him gather 20 mountain boar's fangs.

Mission Grade: Common

Mission Time limit: None

Mission Rewards; 200 experience points and random single level 3 pale white equip

Do you accept?"

Since getting apple in her hand, the 'kazhi kazhi kazhi' sound of nibbling the apple by Guo Guo was ringing in his ear without halting. But luckily that apple Guo Guo was holding in her hand strangely became invisible like Guo Guo's body and couldn't be seen by other people. If not, they could only see an apple floating in the air and it disappearing little by little, this sight was sure to cause a big chaos in the crowd.

Ye Tian Xie didn't immediately accept the mission but thought over for a while and with a smile he said, "Uncle Blacksmith, although the boar's fang is a good forging material still I think wolf's fang in degree of tenacious is even better. How about I bring you wolf's fang?"

Wild boar was just a level 2 monster so right now the wild boar's territory is also surging with many players. So he didn't know how much time he had to waste to collect these 20 wild boar's fang. And he had just only accepted the mission of collecting wolf fang from village head.....what an agreement point.

Suddenly the eyes of Blacksmith lit up and smiling even more he said, "You are rarely seen enthusiastic young man, but the wolf is a ferocious animal and it is also very dangerous to collect wolf's fangs. Are you really willing to collect 20 wolf's fang for me?"

"Ding.....blacksmith Lao Wang favorability +10, mission content changed to collect 20 wolf's fangs, mission time limit and rewards are unchanged. Do you want to accept it?"

"Without doubt, I will deliver 20 wolf's fang as soon as possible." He replied with a smile. Although the mission reward was unchanged, still that +10 increase in favorability had satisfied him. When he was just about turn back and leave, he heard blacksmith calling him, "Youngster.....ai, you are such a rarely seen earnest person. Can you afford to waste more of your time to help me in another task, perhaps you can do it if you are not busy."

At once the steps of Ye Tian Xie stopped, across his whole face a smile appeared and said, "It is an honored for me to help other people."

If his words were heard by all who knew his reputation, only they would have known how much sigh of disdain they would have issued.

Blacksmith put down his forging hammer, he sighed and his face took a great change from smiling to deep sentimental and said, "I had a 7 year old son. In this life he was my and my wife's most precious wealth. But 1 months ago, suddenly a huge black colored bat appeared in the sky of beginner village. It lingered for a long time, suddenly rushed here and use its gigantic claw to seize my son and flew far-off to the south direction.....naturally that bat was terrifying monster, also likely, it was affected by the magic gas which was escaped from 'destiny of tower'. From that time my son was taken away, I already realize that I can never see my son alive in my life again as it is impossible for my son to survive under that evil monster.....youngster ah, can you help me comfort my wife, after our son was taken away by that bat, she completely changed. Day by day, her body is becoming thin and weak and her mind is becoming abnormal too. Every day she call the name of our son like lunatic, if things goes on like this, before long, she would, like my son leave me.....everyone from beginner village tried to comfort her but there was no effect. Youngster, if you are not busy then are you willing to help me with this? Even if she didn't change, I will be very grateful to you."

Chapter 15: "Enormous Secret"

"Ding.....blacksmith Lao Wang request you to help him to encourage his wife.

Mission Grade: Hidden

Time limit: None,

Mission rewards: gratefulness of blacksmith Lao Wang

Do you accept or not?"

When he heard the word 'hidden' in the sound of mission prompt, his heart started to beat violently——unexpectedly this was a hidden mission!

Without any hesitation he accepted the mission. The probability of triggering the hidden mission was very low but the rewards will absolutely be far more rich and generous than common grade missions. And the probability of triggering hidden mission in beginning stage is almost nil but he however triggered a hidden mission so easily.

He had the charm value of 20 points, this could be the reason. This hidden mission original condition to trigger was to have charm value of 10 points or more as well as +30 favorability of blacksmith. This type of condition was not absolutely harsh, at least, for Ye Tian Xie as he had directly applied all the free points given at the beginning in charm fixed attribute. From all this it could be seen that it is very hard to fulfill the condition to trigger hidden mission.

He did not apply all the free point given to him in charm fixed attribute due to spur of impulse or carelessness, no matter if it was in <Lift up the Heaven> or in <Murder God>, he had always applied all the free points given in charm value. The most critical effect of 'luck' is higher drop rate, higher drop rate signify to get even more wealth and greater probability to obtain best equipment. But Ye Tian Xie didn't need high drop rate because he could just.....kill and rob! If he had eye on any equipment then that player basically have no chance to escape. Meanwhile high charm points help to trigger hidden missions which often rewards equips which are far better than those which are dropped from monsters. And 'comprehension' fixed attribute.....'Comprehension' fixed attribute helps players to earn additional experiences which have tremendous attractive force to all the players because in any game world, level is the first standard measure of strength of all players and also fast mastery of the skills, upgrading and comprehending are also equally important. But for Ye Tian Xie this particular fixed attribute is not essential as he was confidence that in this <Destiny> world his leveling speed will be far faster than ordinary players. As 'comprehend' fixed attribute gave additional 3% of experience, compared to normal players he could not only earn 3% more than them but he was confidence enough that he could earn 30% more experience than them with same equips.

But all of the reasons are not applied for other ordinary players, if ordinary player became bold enough to have 0 points in 'luck' then with no ability to kill and rob other his inevitable result will be to completely depend on other player to survive.....

The cabin of the blacksmith' place where other players had never set a foot on was opened. With the help of dim light he saw a thin person's silhouette sitting on a worn-out chair with unkempt hair. Blacksmith Lao Wang took a glance at her, shook his head and with a sigh he said, "Please, youngster."

After saying this he went outside and closed the door. Now if Ye Tian Xie walked out from this door then it represent the completion of this hidden mission. And the result maybe success or failure or given up.

That married woman sitting in the chair had a lifeless look in her eyes, she didn't even seem to notice him entering and she had identical expression as the mental disorder person in real world. Ye Tian Xie take a quick look all around, silently thought for a while and went in front of that dull woman. Persuade type of mission, he had not really encountered before in any other VR game, and this type of mission is often more difficult than to kill large BOSS, and basically there will be no second chance because when persuasion failed the first time, there will be instinctive rejection to the same person from second time onwards.

Exactly when he was about to speak, the core of the apple fell down from midair. Guo Guo patted her small belly and with completely satisfied expression on her face she spoke, "Ooh la la, good food, I'm full oh, this thing called apple is quite tasty. Yi? What's this place?"

Ye Tian Xie was completely speechless seeing that string like apple core on the floor, he believed that in the whole world there is absolutely impossible to have another person who could eat apple so cleanly that only flesh were eaten without touching core part. Moreover.....ordinary people eating apple was nothing but with Guo Guo body size.....he raised his eye and looked her, as expected he discovered that under her clothing clearly her belly had bulged up a little bit. After eating her fill, Guo Guo rode his shoulder, lazily reclined her upper body on his neck, this is called comfortable plus pleasant.

"In order to thank master for allowing me to eat such a delicious thing, most lovely and most obedient Lolita Guo Guo can tell master a little secret ooh." Guo Guo stretched herself, her eyes were already closed and with sleepy appearance she said. Her words made him shocked, "What secret?"

"Ooh la! Precisely this strange aunt la! If you want to persuade her it is actually very simple. Just let her believe her child is not dead la.....oh! It seems I'm tired ne, Guo Guo must to go to sleep, goodbye master ooh."

Guo Guo dropped few vague words, basically didn't give any chance to ask and suddenly change into a heap of white colored light and finally returned to the destiny of moment in front of his chest and disappeared.

It was obvious that she was afraid that he will ask more about it so she escaped. This again caused him to think about the hidden secrets of Guo Guo. He considered the point Guo Guo said repeatedly in his heart for some time, then put together under his own language and finally opened his mouth.....

This was the only blacksmith shop in whole beginning village. Since the drop rate in this <Destiny> world was ridiculously low, the vast majority of players with great difficulty save up the money and hurriedly come to smithy to purchase equipment or to take the mission. Right now blacksmith Lao Wang was obviously distracted while dealing with players. His eyes were drifting to that closed door from time to time.

Full 1 hour passed.

Finally 'creak' sound came and the door was opened, Ye Tian Xie with a dull face came out and release a long breath. Upon seeing this Blacksmith Lao Wang hastily rushed to greet and asked, "Youngster, you have or not....."

Only half of his word had come out from his mouth, suddenly his gaze became fervent because unexpectedly he saw his wife whom he had not seen for whole month walking out from the door behind Ye Tian Xie and even the her look had revert back to become clear. That woman used her clear voice to reply him, "I'm all right....."

The feeling Blacksmith Lao Wan is having now could not describable with any words, and in a sincere voice he said, "Thank you youngster, I will never forget your kindness."

"Ding.....you have completed 'blacksmith Lao Wang request to help him to encourage his wife' mission, obtained blacksmith Lao Wang favorability +20."

Walking away from smithy, he didn't stop and went straight to the wolf valley which was at northern part of the beginner village. As expected the hidden mission was not easy to accomplish, finally after he had to spent nearly an hour in persuasion that woman reacted. But this persuasion was only the beginning of the hidden mission, finally that woman lift her head and with firm gaze she said, "Youngster, if you can help me bring back my son 'Xiao Ming', even if it is dead body, I will tell you a.....extremely big secret!"

Her voice and expression in her eye at that time gave him an indescribable thrilling sensation, as if a wave of cold wind ran through each and every part of his body. His instinct told him that this woman seems much more than profound than the surface simple looks.

Extremely big secret.....exactly what type of secret could be claimed as extremely big secret?

Chapter 16: Red Autumnal Leaves Alliance

Extremely big secret.....exactly what type of secret could be claimed as extremely big secret?

But at least what he can conform is, unintentionally this hidden mission is triggered within beginner village, so it wouldn't be that difficult. God knows, whether their child who was called Xiao Ming is alive or dead and also where he was taken. He don't even know how he looks like.

But fortunately this mission didn't have time limit and penalty, so he had accepted it.

"Oh wow! Look at that man, heavens, he is simply perfect to the unbelieving degree." A tall and graceful female player exaggeratedly exclaimed by covering her lips with her hand. And her flickering eyes pointed towards the target, it was Ye Tian Xie.

"Should have raised his appearance." Female player by her side said.

"Even if he had raised his appearance, he should be handsome."

"You little unrestrained wench again start to recklessly took a fancy upon others! cough"

"heng! Even with this old fking appearance, I can easily get any man."

That female player straightened her face, revealed a charming smile on her face and gently pat on Ye Tian Xie's shoulder, with an intimate voice she said, "Little brother, can you take us sisters for leveling?"

That pair of peach blossom like eyes was full of undisguised provocative seduction. Ye Tian Xie eyes narrowed, just when he was about to speak, suddenly he got a glimpse of her name above her head which caused him to swallow the words he was about to say, turned away and left.

Her awesome name was.....Wet nurse of Danming lake.

The way to north, passing through many trees, he discovered that many players had already crowed that old lady with petrified legs whom he had seen before. Although her mission was to gather wolf's eye, it was of common grade so even level 0 players could accept it. Also he had already wasted more than 1 hour at smithy and at that time others players also started to move towards north and set foot on territories of new monsters.

Wolf valley, located in the northern part of Beginner village, apart from somewhat lonely and desolate atmosphere, the scenery was still all the more delightful. Once in a while you can even hear wolf's howl.

The entrance of this wolf valley is relatively a narrow gorge. Just as Ye Tian Xie was entering the wolf valley, he let out 'oh?' once because there was actually the presence of another person. At first glance, there was 5 individuals surrounding one huge wolf and were locked in a fierce fight.

Ye Tian Xie had only common grade equips all over his body, in comparison those players already had a full range of equipment, some of their equipment was even shining with faint blue light, it turned out to be steel grade equipment. The wolf which was surrounded by these players was nearly twice as big as other wolves. Under the constant joint attack of those 5 players, it was issuing a howl of anger from time to time. Slowly the HP bar above its head was declining. Above that HP bar there was a name "Giant fierce wolf" and there was 3 gold colored star hanging in front of its name.

3* BOSS!

Giant fierce wolf: level 5, 3* BOSS

HP: 1300

The variation among the wild wolves, which have huge body and formidable ability which far surpassed other common wild wolves.

Skill: Frenzy

At <Destiny> world, BOSS are classifies as 1*, 2*, 3* and Lord Class. In fact, strictly speaking, 1* and probably 2* monsters not counted as real a BOSS monster but considered as elite monsters. 1* BOSS is an ordinary elite monster whose ability exceed common monster 1-2 times. 2* BOSS is an elite monster which ability exceeds 1* by 1-2 times. 3*BOSS is the leader of the territory, whose ability is many times formidable. And Lord Class BOSS is the supreme ruler of the vast territory and has a fearful amount strength. And above Lord Class BOSS, there is even more terrifying BOSS which are countless times more powerful than these monster which are classified as————-faerie beast, heaven beast, Mysterious god beast and Saint Destroyer beast.

Perhaps only after forming a large team of very high level skilled players, have the possibility to win over a lower level faerie beast. But they could only describe the Heaven beast onward with a single word ———-unbeatable.

Ye Tian Xie couldn't help but get interested in their names floating above their head. All the names of 5 players started from 'red autumnal leaves' and the name 'red autumnal leaves alliance' flashed in his mind. It seems he and this alliance have a little bit of intersection.

Sudden intrusion of outsider caused them to be slightly anxious as they were still attacking the giant fierce wolf. They had just discovered that this map called wild wolf valley and then discovered a single wandering 3* BOSS. This was very lucky as well as painful matter for them. But after they saw Ye Tian Xie was covered with only novice equips, their slight nervousness turned into disdain. And also his perfect looks made them gnash their teeth with jealousy on the top of that they hated him even more.

But, they could only looked for a split second at him. Even though all 5 of them were level 3, it was still not that easy to deal with Level 5, 3* BOSS.

Those 5 players happens to be novice guardian, novice warrior, novice archer, novice mage and novice priest. 5 people and 5 different vocation. Novice guardian was holding the wooden shield in front and while drinking the health potion he was withstanding the attacks of giant fierce wolf. Novice warrior was swiftly attacking it from behind, novice mage was standing at the suitable distance from the giant fierce wolf and continuously attacking with magic, at one side the novice priest was drinking mana potion and after which she was casting healing and bluffs and lastly novice archer was shooting the arrow from behind the rock.

-9, -11, -8, -22.....

These 5 player had mutual understanding and all the location they were at were also just right, because of this there was a stalemate between them and giant fierce wolf. With the defense of this Level 5, 3* wolf, the attack of these 5 players looked weak. Only the magic attack of novice magician were dealing some noticeable damage. But still the HP of the giant fierce wolf was slowly falling. By the time Ye Tian Xie arrived here, the HP of this wolf was already dropped near 30%.

Ye Tian Xie stopped, he was not enjoying the show of those 5 players but was pondering. Having the ability to have a complete set of equips, this shows that these players are not ordinary. Plus that perfect formation and high level of skill shows that this players also should have high level position in 'Red autumnal leaves' alliance.

"Come on! It still have less than 300 HP left, hurry up.....I only have last HP potion left, hurry I cannot withstand much longer. Little Mu, Pay attention to its HP!" Novice guardian who was withstanding the attacks and provoking the giant fierce wolf, yelled loudly.

"I'm also running out of mana potion." The novice priest hurriedly casted healing skill and waited for its cooldown.

Online Game Evil Dragon Against The Heaven, Chapter 17: Blast him!

At this point, the HP of giant fierce wolf fell below 20% and what he had expected happened. The giant fierce wolf suddenly stopped attacking, raised its head towards the sky and release the terrifying howl. After that it started to violently breathe, all of the hair on its body also stood erect and eyes become blood red. All of this caused the atmosphere around it to change, and this change caused those 5 players to tremble with fear at the same time. That novice guardian couldn't help but took a step back and with terror he spoke, "this wolf is in frenzy, everyone speed up the attack output!"

Frenzy: When the HP of giant fierce wolf falls below 20%, there is 50% chance to trigger this ability. After this ability is triggered, for 1 minute, attack power, attack speed and movement speed all are increased by 30% and defense is decreased by 30%.

When frenzy was triggered, the 'provocation' skill was cancelled. So, it no longer attacked the novice guardian who was withstanding its attack. Suddenly it released a violent howl and pounced toward the novice priest who was behind novice guardian. Novice priest was caught unprepared, she couldn't even release her scream and was hit on her chest by the huge claw of wolf and that attack take away half of her HP.

Novice guardian was greatly surprised and swiftly turned around, but his provocation skill was still at 10 second cooldown, so he couldn't immediately attract the hostility of giant fierce wolf. Novice priest hurriedly retreated but how could her speed be faster than the wolf who had triggered frenzy. Its claw again hit her in chest which took away all of her remaining HP from HP bar above her head. After that her body fell down on the ground, transformed into a partial of light and disappeared.....and sent back to novice village.

The priest died, the remaining 4 players became disorder. Two of the long-raged players started to bombard the wolf with attacks. After killing the priest, giant fierce wolf turned around and howled, then started to rush to the direction of novice mage who was attacking with magic bullets.

"First withdraw!" Novice guardian yelled loudly. With just 2 attack from this wolf, it had sent back their priest to the beginner village. They had already use huge amount of potion this time and the giant fierce wolf also had only 200 HP left. And it seemed like the 4 of them couldn't necessary last long enough to deplete that remaining 200 HP of giant fierce wolf.

At once all 4 of them spread in different direction and started running towards the exit of the map. Novice guardian was directly charging towards the direction of Ye Tian Xie, and yelled, "Friend! Can you do me a favor? This BOSS is going to die, I will add you in our party and you just have to give us your health recovery potion.....and we will defeat this BOSS. How about we give you a piece of equip that drops from this BOSS?"

Ye Tian Xie narrowed his eyes and with a calm face showing a gentle smile he said, "Fine, Remember to keep your promise."

"Ding.....Iron wall of red autumnal leaves invite you to join his party. Do you accept?"

"Oh! Accept."

The beep of successfully joining the party rang in his ear, and at the same time novice guardian also arrived before him, and hastily said, "Quick, give me health recovery potion.....this is level 5 BOSS, not only you got a share the experience, we will also give you a equip which will drop from this BOSS, you earn it big."

If not for this situation, Iron wall of red autumnal leaves would never seek help from this novice player with novice equips all over the body, not to mention trading. Ye Tian Xie efficiently took out 5 health recovery potion and handed to novice guardian. After taking the potions, that novice guardian no longer said anything and directly turned towards the novice archer who was being chased by giant fierce wolf and yelled, "Get ready to attack!"

Novice guardian quickly casted 'provocation' skill, this caused the giant fierce wolf to pause, then turned around and started to rush towards him. Novice guardian still used his wooden shield to withstand the wolf's attacks. And remaining players all gathered around the wolf and started to attack it. They didn't know when Ye Tian Xie walked over, he was holding his novice sword and attacking the wolf and his damage was.....

-1, -1, MISS.....

From their party panel, they noticed that Ye tian Xie was amazingly Level 1 player. Red autumnal leaves alliance 4 players face showed same kind disdain as if they were God.

The HP of the giant fierce wolf from 200 drop down to 150, again 150 to

100. The player who was wielding two-handed sword coldly looked at Ye Tian Xie and whispered to Iron Wall of red autumnal leaves, "Kick him out, otherwise our experience will be divided.....and probably even rush to pick up the drops."

Just when the voice of novice warrior faded, a sound rang in Ye Tian Xie's ear, "You have been kicked out from Iron wall of red autumnal leaves' party." This caused a sneer to appear in Ye tian Xie's corner of mouth. Suddenly he took a step forward, in his hands novice sword already disappeared, and when he attack again, only a huge black colored arc was drawn directly in front of giant fierce wolf's body.....

-142!

Gorgeous yellow colored critical damage floated above the head of giant fierce wolf, the wolf let out a mournful howl, and all its HP in HP bar was emptied and it fell on the ground. It directly dropped copper coins and health potions. In addition to this it also dropped 3 equips which were shining with weak blue light.

"Ding, you successfully killed 3* elite giant fierce wolf, gained 400 experience."

Currently 10 points in luck fixed attribute was the highest value in luck, this cause his critical hit rate far higher than other average players as well as drop rate and their quality also far beyond.

All 4 of the red autumnal players were completely frozen, they only looked at Ye Tian Xie and all 3 equips which were dropped on the ground. The color of light confirmed that those three equips were steel grade. Dropping 3 steel grade equips at once had already greatly surprised them and now their vision was concentrated to that huge black colored weapon in the hand of the Ye Tian Xie. Comparing with two-handed sword, that weapon was far bigger in size and even its appearance was indescribable with any words. Occasionally it flashed a strange colored lights, all the players' reaction would be same when they saw this weapon for the first time.

After shock they were throbbing with greed. They didn't feel guilty of not keeping promise and kicking him out from party. They didn't even feel that much humiliation and anger as their BOSS was killed by him. They just wanted to take that strange weapon from Ye Tian Xie. The damage output was far higher so without doubt it was differently not an ordinary weapon but extremely powerful weapon.

"Actually dared to steal our BOSS, blast him!"

The face color of novice guardian continuously changed, then he roared and rushed towards Ye Tian Xie. But at present, Ye tian Xie had strange and unfathomable smiling expression in his heart. He also directly dashed towards the novice guardian and took a single hit from him.

"Ding.....you received the attack of from iron wall of red autumnal leaves' party, you have half an hour time to counter attack them."

Chapter 18: You knew too much!

Even the novice players would have their crime points increased if they PK-ed someone in the wild. If the initiator of PK killed an opponent, then his crime point would be increased by +1, and if the other party counter attacked and killed the initiator of the PK, then his crime would not have increased. The higher the crime value, the greater the death penalty. The crime value would automatically get reduced by 1 point, every 5 hours in the wild. If the crime value was above 10, then that player would have become wanted in major cities, and once he entered the city, he would be caught by the authority and placed in prison. And in prison, the crime value reduced automatically by 1 point per hour. Also one could pay money in order to reduce the crime: 1000 Gold coin per 1 crime point.

There was no level reduction penalty at the time of death for the players who were below level 10, but there was a chance to drop some equips and coins. Ye Tian Xie didn't directly charge to attack the novice guardian from the front, rather he rushed and passed through the space between the novice guardian and the novice warrior with his strange steps and attacked the novice magician who was about to cast a magic bullet. As the length of eternal destiny of moment plus his hand was spread to 2 meters, the unprepared novice mage could only see a black shadow and only felt a slight sting on his throat, the digit '-196' floated above his head. His 90 points of HP bar was emptied in a single attack, and he slowly fell on the ground.

Sudden attack, and critical hit!

Insta-kill! Unexpectedly even at the beginning phase of the game, insta-kill appeared! The remaining 3 players drew in a huge breath. If this was in the late stages of the game, then the gap between the players' strength would already be opened by some degree. So at that time insta-kill could occur, but insta-kill occurring in the beginning stages of the game, no one could believe it. But they had seen that sight with their own eyes.

At the time when they were shocked, he attacked again. A single sword simultaneously swept at both the novice warrior and the novice guardian. This caused both of them to awaken from their shock, and they directly used their attack skills towards Ye Tian Xie's body. That huge damage of almost 200 had frightened them, but it also caused their greed to increase even more in their heart. This kind of attack power at this beginning stage could only be regarded as abnormal, and there was no doubt that everything was happening because of that extraordinary weapon.

As if he already knew about the attacks of those 2 players beforehand, his body slightly moved backwards and at the same time he withdrew eternal destiny of moment. A single two-handed sword and one-handed sword, at the same time almost stabbed him in his chest, but there was still a fine line distance between his chest and those swords. It was perfectly calculated. And also at the same time, an arrow whistled past his ear side.

His reaction and perception were several times higher than that of the average players. Even if he had not deliberately raised his vitality, he could contend against others in close combat. Because of his high perception and reaction speed, he could immediately dodge most of the attacks. Once again he swept his eternal destiny of moment causing 2 blood red digit to float in the air above the 2 heads. The HP bar of the novice warrior was completely emptied and he fell on the ground and disappeared. Seeing this, the face of the novice guardian became pale and he retreated one step hurriedly. When his leg had just moved, a shadow of Ye Tian Xie appeared before him, after that the pupil of his eyes enlarged and shortly afterwards the notification of his death rang in his ear.

With a simple attack, in a flash, again two players had died under his hand. The novice archer who was hiding behind the stone was dumbfounded and didn't move from that location for a few seconds. And after some time he awoke and finally when he started to escape, Ye Tian Xie was already near him and that massive weapon was going to strike him.....

"Ah!!"

A very exaggerated, horrible shriek caused Ye Tian Xie to stop his attack. The novice archer was already paralyzed on the ground with fear and with his pale face he said, "Spare me.....big brother spare me, I will give you all the equipments I have. So please don't kill me."

Such an exaggerated response made him a bit interested, and with a pondering look he said, "You are afraid of death? Just now I saw you shooting an arrow with a very HAPPY face."

There was no level reduction penalty for death and even if there was a level reduction penalty, he was only level 3 now, and within half an hour he could easily level up, so he didn't have to be afraid to such degree. But sadly, this miserable player had entered the game for the first time after a long period of time and in order to simulate 100% reality, this brainless idiot had set pain tolerance at 100%. If Ye Tian Xie attacked him here, then it would be no different than attacking him in the real world with a knife. When he first entered the game he had already started to regret it but in this destiny world there was no chance to start again.....

He interestingly observed the novice archer being afraid and slowly brought eternal destiny of moment near him and said, "Well, actually I am a very compassionate person, although you all didn't keep your promise and attacked me. I am not that ruthless.....well, let me ask you a question, if you can give me a satisfactory answer, I'll let you go."

After hearing this, the face of the novice archer eased somewhat, and hastily nodded his head, "Thank you brother.....Anything I know, I'll tell you."

"Am I handsome?" He casually asked while playing with eternal destiny of moment.

"Ah.....handsome! You are the most handsome man I have ever seen." The novice archer hastily nodded his head, now even if Ye Tian Xie was a pig, he had to violate his conscience to give the answer which pleased him.

Chi!

As the weapon ripped through him, the novice archer released a blood-curdling scream like a pig who was about to get slaughtered. Another spectacular critical hit digit floated in the air. After screaming, the body of the novice archer fell on the ground and turned into a white light, and like his other unlucky party member he also returned to the beginner village.

Ye Tian Xie stood up, looking towards the dislocated north, he let out a sigh and said, "You knew too much."

He walked towards the dead body of the wolf and picked up 3 recovery potion and scattered coins. When he counted the number of coins, he couldn't help but be shocked.....this 3* BOSS dropped 50 silver coins, equivalent to 50 cent of Chinese currency.

He put all these money in his inventory, and finally took 3 equips that were also dropped by the giant fierce wolf and started to browse its attributes.

Chapter 19: Business Deal

The attributes of Steel grade equips are 1 or 2 times higher than Pale White equips. Ye Tian Xie just browsed through their attributes and threw them in his inventory. As before with just beginner equips he went deep inside the wolf territory. It's not that he didn't want to equip it, rather.....those equips required a close combat vocation, and he couldn't fulfill it as he didn't have any vocation at this stage.

After he had taken a few steps, the pack of wandering wolves appeared within his line of sight. For Ye Tian Xie these wild wolves and other low level monsters weren't different at all, except the hostility range of wild wolves. He could easily kill both wild wolves and other low level monster easily without breaking a sweat. Ye Tian Xie walked unhurriedly towards the wild wolves, immediately causing 3 wolves to rush towards him and when 3 wolves were close enough he drew Eternal Destiny of Moment.....

He would not easily forget the matter about the 5 health recovery potions that he had given to Iron Wall of Red Autumnal leaves. He had already decided to take away many things from him.....as its price.

At the resurrection point in the beginner village, all 5 players of Red Autumnal leaves alliance emerged successively. And when Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves appeared there, Novice Warrior fuming with rage said, "7th brother, when have we ever humiliated like this! We absolutely cannot forget about this. I will immediately call some of our brothers and go to kill him and also his weapon....."

"Before you say anything," Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves raised his hand to stop him, "This matter is something that I have to tell alliance master. I'm sure he will be interested in that weapon."

The communication device of the world of <Destiny> was a ring or wristband, these device can be used for not only entering the game from the real world but also as a communication device as well as, a clock, camera, and more. Similarly these devices could be concealed and evoked. Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves raised his hand and spoke against the device, "Leader, I just got killed by a level 1 player. Not only was I killed, but he killed 4 of us.....that level 1 player could deal 100+ damage."

"Oh?" A man's voice came through the communication device.

"Leader, I will send you a photo, then you will know what I meant."

He sent a photo through the communication device, this was the photograph of Ye Tian Xie who was impressively holding 'Eternal Destiny of Moment' in his hand. This was the photograph he had hastily taken when Ye Tian Xie had attacked Novice Mage.

After a long silence, the voice again came from the communication device, "A very overbearing appearance. Even if it appeared at beginner village, all the warrior vocation players would be crazy to get this weapon. What type of hidden mission did that player trigger.....ah 7th, I'm very interested in this unusual weapon, you must seize it and give it to me. If its attack is really as strong as you mentioned, it would be a great help to me.....first try to trade or buy that weapon from him. It would be best if he sells it to us, and it doesn't matter if he asks for more than million, just accept it. In this short period of time, this player has triggered a hidden mission and also completed it. He is definitely not a normal player, so we can't afford to make an enemy out of such a player at this stage."

"Leader, I understand what you mean." Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves answered and turned off the communication device, then said, "Let's go back to that wolf valley, he should still be there!"

Ding

"Your level has increased to level 2, HP +10, MP +10, you have received 5 basic attribute points."

As before, Ye Tian Xie applied all of this points into strength. After this his attack directly increased to 116. Now he only needed two hits to kill 3 wild wolves and sometime a single critical hit would do the job.

Again, another 7 or 8 wild wolves fell on the ground, after that he went towards the dead bodies of the wolves and used his basic 'harvest' skill.

Ding

"You received 2 wolf eyes and 3 wolf fangs."

Ding

"You received 2 wolf eyes and 1 wolf fang."

Looking inside his inventory, he saw that he had already gotten more than 50 wolf eyes and more than 50 wolf fangs. So, after killing the wild wolves which had re-spawned, he turned to go back to town. He was not in a rush to complete the mission of blacksmith Lao Wang, but he was looking forward to completing the mission of the old lady.

At this stage of game, there were no return scrolls, so he had to walk all the way back. While he was returning, he again met those 5 players of Red Autumnal Leaves alliance. But he didn't stop his footsteps at all and walked towards his destination as if he didn't see them.

"Xie Tian, we are players from Red Autumnal Leaves alliance.....care to do a business deal with us?" Seeing Ye Tian Xie, Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves let out a sigh of relief and directly stated his business to avoid any conflict.

"Business deal?" Ye Tian Xie slightly smiled, and his vision swept all those 5 players and with scorn, he said, "You people who didn't even keep your promise, want to do a business deal?"

When his vision swept across them, their bodies suddenly tightened. Especially that Novice Archer, who was completely frightened and he huddled behind the other players as if he was their shadow.

Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves' face became black but still calmly said, "What happened before is purely a misunderstanding.....I will speak frankly, our leader Strong Gale of Red Autumnal Leaves is interested in your weapon. As long as you are willing to hand over that weapon to us, you can ask any price. Also alliance leader himself said that you can join our Red Autumnal Leaves alliance and directly become one of the core players, if you want. Within the VR world, although our Red Autumnal Leaves alliance's influence can't be compared with two giants 'Dominion alliance' and 'Wings of Heaven', our alliance name is also equally known by everyone. Also our alliance is within the top 10 in terms of power and very few people are bold enough to provoke us. The name alone is enough to suppress most players, no need to mention about our leader."

"Oh....." Ye Tian Xie made his face appear as if he was interested. He raised his hand with 'Eternal Moment of Destiny' and he looked like he was thinking about something and slowly said, "100 gold coins!"

"100 gold coins!?" The eyes of Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves widened, his face changed quickly and grinding his teeth he said, "Well, you are quite frank. We'll gather the amount at once.....lets go."

Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves did not say anything further and directly left. After currency exchange is opened, 100 gold coins or 100 Chinese currency is nothing but a fart for Red Autumnal Leaves alliance, but in the early game each copper coin is precious, and a single gold coin is a huge asset. It could be even said there is not any player who had a single gold coin at this stage. Even Ye Tian Xie, who had killed a giant fierce wolf, his total assets amount to 60 silver coins, nothing more.

Ye Tian Xie didn't bother to look at them, and went straight towards the location of the old lady.

"Leader, he wants 100 gold coins, not real currency but coins." Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves spoke into the communication device.

"Oh? 100 gold coins? It appears that he is not an ambitious person. Immediately mobilize all the players to gather coins at that beginning village. And be sure to collect them in the shortest time possible. I don't care even if the exchange rate is 1000 Chinese currency to 1 gold. Now go!"

"Yes." Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves answered. He quickly ran towards beginner village. Even with an exchange rate of 1000:1, 100 gold coin will cost only 100,000 Chinese currency. And if they got that weapon, then in the beginning stage they would be ahead of all the other players. This will bring them many additional benefits which could not be measured in terms of money.

chapter 20: You can take a hike!

"Hello Madam, here are the wolf eyes you wanted." He placed 10 wolf eyes in the hand of that strange old woman. Thereupon the beep of mission accomplishment rang in his ear.....but he nearly cursed when he saw what that mysterious reward of the mission was.

Ding

"You completed the mission 'petrified old woman request'. Obtained quest rewards: experience 10 points and 1 silver coin."

Unexpectedly he only got 10 experience points and a single silver coin as a reward for giving up 10 wolf eyes. He could have easily sold those 10 wolf eyes in the shop for 2 silver coins.....he wanted to ask this question, old woman, aren't you quite a daring miser?

"Thank you youngster, these wolf eyes are of great help to me. Youngster, I can see you are a very eager and brave person. So are you willing to help me again by collecting 100 wolf eyes?" The old woman lifted her dry bark like face and spoke the words of appreciation, but there was not the least bit of appreciation expression on her face, only a look of complete indifference.

Ding

"The petrified old woman requests you to help her by collecting 100 wolf eyes.

Mission property: Common

Mission time limit: None

Mission reward: Unknown.

Do you accept it?"

"I accept."

The second request of this old woman satisfied him, because the second request meant it's a continuous mission. And the rewards of beginning stage of a continuous mission are cheap enough to be ignored. But in this type of continuous mission, along with the increase of the mission, the rewards also become higher and higher. Now this is the continuous mission, then could next one be 200 wolf eyes? And further down it? 300?

He didn't feel like sprouting nonsense, so he directly returned to the Wild wolf valley and started to kill more wild wolves. As he stepped into the wolves' territory, the wolves caught the scent of a stranger and directly rushed towards him. But then with a single sweep of 'Eternal Destiny of Moment' 2 wolves directly died.

2 hit and certain death, and also range of 2 meter with AOE normal attack. Even the efficiency of 6-man party with an average level of 5 couldn't match the efficiency of Ye Tian Xie. Gradually, 10 minutes later, not a single one was left from the pack of wild wolves who were attacking him. Again after another 10 minutes, he was charging and taking the initiative to attack the wolves and again another 10 minutes later.....there was not even a single wild wolf left around him. Every wild wolf in this place was killed by him alone, this location had already become like his private hunting ground.

Ding

"Your level has increased to level 3, HP+10, MP +10, you have received 5 basic attribute points."

Inside his inventory, the number of wolf eyes already exceeded 300. Finally, he once again stepped out from the wolf valley, unfortunately.....or should we say the people of Red Autumnal Leaves alliance were unfortunate, once again they met him head-on.

As before, they were the same 5 players. In the China region there are 100,000 beginner village, since there is such a huge number of beginner village, it is quite hard for players of same alliance to be assigned in the same beginner villages. So for 5 people from the Red Autumnal Leaves alliance to be assigned in the same beginner village could be considered as good luck. Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves took the lead and stepped forward in front of Ye Tian Xie and said, "Xie Tian, we have gathered 100 gold. Let's complete the transaction, we will give you an additional level 3 two-handed sword as a gift and we 'Red Autumnal Leaves alliance' will also recognize you as our friend."

100 gold coins, at this stage this amount can be considered astronomical wealth. In order to prevent any trouble that could be caused by delaying, they paid the maximum price to collect these 100 gold coins within the shortest period of time. And after collecting, the first thing they did, was to hurriedly come here. Fortunately, when they came here, they at once found him.

"Red Autumnal Leaves? Are you serious?" Ye Tian Xie laughed, he didn't even bother to hide his disdainful expression when asking this question.

Immediately the expression of Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves changed, but it relaxed again and he said indifferently, "Although our Red autumnal leaves alliance cannot be compared with 'God's Domain alliance' and 'Wings of Heaven', nevertheless no average person can provoke us. We have more than 10,000 brothers and sisters, even if it is 'God's Domain alliance' and 'Wings of Heaven', we have never feared them. Before long we will trample both of them under the soles of our feet!"

Ye tian Xie naturally had not heard the name 'God's Domain alliance' and 'Wings of Heaven', he just advance two steps in front of Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves, extend his right hand and said, "100 gold coins, cough up."

Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves remained motionless, with a cold face he said, "With one hand exchange the cash, the other the goods (idiom), we Red Autumnal Leaves alliance don't have the habit of giving the coins first."

"I'm also same." Ye Tian Xie withdrew his hand, and looking at him, he said, "I don't care about your Red Autumnal Leaves alliance's reputation or style. Also I have already seen the habit of your Red Autumnal Leaves alliance just before too. I will just say it once either give me the coins or take a hike."

That harsh, ridiculing, and disdainful look made those 5 players of Red autumnal leaves alliance face color change and take on a cold expression. Before, in any VR game if the 3 words Red Autumnal Leaves were heard, who would dare not give them precedence out of courtesy and about 30% of players would immediately flee at the mere sight of them. Till now no one had dared to despise them in this way, and what's more the was opposing party was a single player and there was 5 of them.

That hands of Novice Warrior were already on his weapon and he was ready to attack, but Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves gestured him to stop. The most important task for them now was to make sure they get that strange weapon which alliance leader Strong Gale of Red Autumnal Leaves wanted. This was not the time to be swayed by their personal feelings.....if they could have, they would have long ago directly killed him until he dropped all his equips including that weapon. But in merely 10 seconds, all 4 of them were killed in previous fight. So to complete the task given by their leader, their only choice was to exercise patience.

"Well....." Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves released a long breath, and slowly said, "Previously, we were in the wrong. We can hand over the gold coins first, Xie Tian, we believe you are not unwise enough to offend our whole Red Autumnal Leaves alliance. Although you are very strong, and you alone can easily defeat us 5, but on our back there are 10,000 brothers and sisters of Red Autumnal Leaves alliance. It's better to become friends with us rather than enemies. We believe you are intelligent enough to make the right choice."

After the compromise, there was a huge threat. The threat of 10,000 players may be enough to keep most of the players under control but this time they chose the wrong opponent to threaten. Some people are born fearless to any threat and on the contrary this can be used as an excuse to kill them.

Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves alliance advanced forward and handed over 100 Gold coins to Ye Tian Xie. When the beep of handover success rang in his ear, he checked his inventory and saw 100 shining gold coins. On his face a clear magnificent smile emerged, after this he turned around to go on his way and carelessly said, "Well, I received the coins, you can take a hike now."

Chapter 21: Nothing else to do, just kill once again

Suddenly the color of all the 5 players of Red Autumnal Leaves faces changed. And the calm expression of Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves finally became black, and he said, "What do you mean!?"

"Last time you took 5 recovery potions from me. And I charged you only 100 gold coins for them, that's all. Isn't this a perfect business deal? Furthermore I still have 5 more recovery potion, if you want them, I can sell all of them to you for just 50 gold coins, how about it?"

The cost of a small recovery potion in the store of the beginner village is just 2 copper coins, and here, Ye Tian Xie sold same recovery potion at 20 gold coins, directly earning 1000 times the profit. Even Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves barely endured his impulse to chop him into pieces with a sword, gritting his teeth he laughed grimly and said, "Xie Tian, it seems you have decided to go against us Red Autumnal Leaves!?"

"Your green hat alliance, 'Red Autumnal Leaves alliance', and I don't have any connection now. This amount is that potions payment nothing more, you got 5 recovery potions and I got my 100 gold coins and your cheap death." Ye Tian Xie cast a sidelong glance and let out an unparalleled laugh and as he said this. He suddenly discovered that having his game name changed was not too bad, or at least he could do many fun things to pass time. If he had used his previous name, even 'God's domain' and 'Wings of heaven' would have selected to take a detour once they saw his name.

"Very good.....Xie Tian, we Red Autumnal Leaves alliance will remember you. Let's go!!" Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves suppressed his anger, dropped these sharp words with a roar, and turned around to leave. Since the time he joined Red Autumnal Leaves alliance, he was never once humiliated like this. All 5 of them knew that they were no match for him, so they decided to temporarily swallow all their anger and hate and leave. They could only think, after Xie Tian left the beginner village, they would settle their debts and at that time they would let him realize what regret means.

“Stop, you seem to have forgotten something.”

The steps of Iron Wall of Red Autumnal leaves paused, and he turned around his body to see him.

Ye Tian Xie extend his 3 fingers, and sloppily said, “In total you wasted 3 minutes of my time. My time is many times more valuable than your lives. For 1 minute..... if you give me 1000 gold coins, altogether it would be 3000 gold coins. Hand it over.”

“Xie Tian, don’t you go too far!” Even Buddha would get angry after 3 times, and how could these arrogant peoples hold their anger any more. That novice warrior whose eyes were already burning with anger, directly put his hand on his two-handed sword and was going to attack. He didn’t even know that his action was akin to courting death.

“Can’t take it out?” Ye Tian Xie expression sunk and with a sneer he said, “Unfortunately, I can only take your life as a compensation.”

Ye Tian Xie’s voice had just fallen, and with his strange steps, in a flash he had already arrived in front of Iron Wall of Red autumnal leaves. Before any one of them could react, that pitch-black unusual weapon, once more appeared in his hand. Before any one of them could put any kind of resistance, Eternal Destiny of Moment already swept through them.....

-100, -103, -108, -208.

That pathetic priest who was killed by giant fierce wolf's claw was hit violently and directly died. The remaining 3 also lost more than half of their HP.....and that extremely tragic blood-curdling scream of the novice archer came as an additional gift. Even a slight scratch from a knife is not common in the real world, and not to mention a cut, so many people could not live while enduring the pain of such injury. The remaining 4 players could only gasp with astonishment and subconsciously retreat, but the range of Eternal Destiny of Moment was very large. With the exception of novice archer who had already fled and crying with pain, under the second attack from him, novice warrior and novice magician turned into shards of light and disappeared.

After killing the two, he didn't even turn around. He just withdrew his weapon and spun his weapon around and hit the shield of Iron Wall of Red Autumnal Leaves. -99 digit floated in the air, at the same time repelling effect was triggered which caused him to retreat 2 steps. Suddenly Ye Tian Xie turned around, and stabbed him in the chest 2 times in a row. These two attacks had directly sent this novice guardian to the beginner village without any reprisal. And near his corpse, a single wooden shield was dropped.

Finally, when the remaining novice archer, who was insanely running, turned his head around and saw all of his companion had died in such a short time, he couldn't help but tremble all over with fear and desperately ran forward. But unfortunately, while running he stumbled upon a stone and fell down to the ground.

Just when novice archer got up, there was already someone standing behind him. Watching that pitch-black ferocious weapon, novice archer was so scared that both of his legs were weakened, his whole body was covered with cold sweat, and it was likely that he would never forget the previous pain and death in his rest of the life. He shook his hand in panic, and trembling he said, "Don't.....don't kill me, my pain tolerance is set at 100%. Please don't kill me.....I will give you all my gold coins as well as equips.....big brother, please don't kill me, don't kill me ah....."

Ye Tian Xie revealed exactly same smile as before and with a compassionate look, he said, "Well, everyone who knows me, knows that I am a very compassionate person. Although you wasted my time and have not payed me adequate compensation, I am not that ruthless..... well, I will ask you a question, if you give me a satisfactory answer, I'll let you go."

Ask a question, again asking a question..... painful memories came all of a sudden. Novice archer almost cried, trembling said, "What is the question?"

"Am I handsome?"

"I.....I don't know."

Chi!

A black colored light appeared in front of the body of novice archer, and a scream like the scream of the pig being slaughtered was heard. Ye

Tian Xie lightly said, "You don't even know this, what reason do you have to be alive."

Looking at that miserable corpse of novice archer which transformed into white lights and was disappearing, putting away his Eternal Destiny of Moment, he slowly said, "No matter, whichever world it is, conducting a business deal is nice. From now on, before entering the world of <Destiny>it is best if you all carefully looked at your almanac."

Chapter 22: Collecting chain mission no. 3

The name above his head changed into a bright red color, this is the color when the crime value is 5 and starting from the 10th crime value, the name changes into a black color...a reddish black.

He didn't care about the value, because these kind of things can be removed by using gold coins. Although not many people could afford to pay 1000 gold coins to remove a single crime point, but it wasn't a problem for him since he had enough of Coins to spend.

100 Gold coins may be less than a fart for most players, after exchange is open, but in early stage, this is actually a huge amount. He not only took these gold coins as a punishment, rather these could be used as the biggest helping hand at the start of the village

Novice Job Transfer test!

When players reach Level 10, they can go to the village head to get their Job Transfer. And only those who had completed this test are able to go to the city of <Destiny> world. The test is divided into 5 different kinds of stages, which are: Easy level, common level, hard level, nightmare level and abyss level. The test difficulty could be freely changed by players themselves, and if anyone passed one of these tests, then they could escape the Beginner village and go into another one. Different difficulty level also give different rewards just as:

Easy Level: After passing the test, all 4 basic attributes become +1 each.

Common Level: After passing the test, the players 4 basic attributes become +2 each.

Hard Level: After passing the test, the basic attributes become +3 each, and Luck +1 just as well.

Nightmare Level: After passing the test, all basic attributes get +4 each, Luck +1, and the players get a single random piece of Copper Equipment.

Abyss Level: After passing the test, all 4 basic attributes get a massive +5 each, Luck +1, Comprehension +1, Charm +1, and will receive the Beginner Village's Badge of Bravery. All the players who cleared the test at Abyss level will have their name publicized through the system announcement and furthermore have their name listed in the record of the Beginner Village forever.

Every single person or a party which do not go above 12 people, are allowed to take part in these tests.

The current players' average level was still far from reaching level 10, but he was already starting to prepare for this test. These 100 Gold coins, were also a preparation for the upcoming test. His actions looked like he was doing something evil as he pleased, but in reality all those actions had their purpose. Raising his appearance by 20%, that was not for satisfying his vanity, but another form to increase his charm. Just like in a real world, a person with an appearance which is pleasing to the eye, more easily get other peoples goodwill. If a person whose face was filled with pockmark converse would get of a bad impression without any reason...

At destiny world it is also same. There is no difference in nature between every NPC of here and the real person.

He arrived in front of that old lady, and took out 100 wolf's eyes. There was still more than 200 wolf's eyes in his inventory, but this Old Woman had a task where he can obtain 200 more. Potions and common items could be stacked up to 100 in a single space of the inventory.

Ding

"You have completed the mission 'sealed old lady request', mission rewards obtained: 100 experience and 1 Gold coin."

Ye Tian Xie: "....."

10 wolf's eyes only gave 10 experience points and a silver coin as a reward. And this 100 wolf's eye gave 100 experience points and a gold coin as a reward. All of a sudden he sensed his breathing was not smooth.

"Thank you youngster, these wolf eyes are of great help to me. Youngster, I can see you are very eager and brave person. So are you willing to help me again by collecting 1000 wolf eyes?" The Elder looked at him with a pleading look in her eyes which she pulled off before when he had to get the hundred wolf eyes...the only difference was that the request changed from 100 to a thousand which was completely insane!

Ding

"Sealed old-lady requested you to collect 1000 wolf's eyes.

Mission grade: Common

Mission time limit: None

Mission rewards: Unknown

Do you accept?"

10 to 100, 100 to 1000...unexpectedly it was 10 times, 10 times the growth, then the next one would be...

He quickly had a thought in his mind, choose to accept and silently left. 1000 pieces, with his current collecting speed, in less than a day he could collect all of them. This should be the last part of the chain mission. But collecting 10,000? That's absolutely impossible, as players inventory only had 50 space which could hold 100 common items of the same kind. And even with all the slots in the inventory the players couldn't collect 10,000 wolf eyes as there is not any item to increase the capacity of their inventory, so even if a player had enough patience, they couldn't collect 10,000. Five thousand is the maximum.

He again took the same way towards the wolf valley, before he had already cleared this territory but now this valley was again already filled with wild wolves, since they respawn. Almost as if they had recognized him as their entire family exterminator, the group of wolves immediately howled and started to throw themselves at him so they could bite him till he bleeds.

Facing these wild wolves, who were of no complete threat to him, he didn't feel any pain and started to wave his Destiny of Moment in the middle of the group of wolves. After only half an hour he had killed all the wild wolves from this territory, not even a hair of a wolf could be seen in this area anymore. He dragged his weapon then proceeded to sit down on a stone.

The constant respawning speed of the wild wolf made him somewhat sleepy.

It was quite commendable that he didn't meet those 5 players of Red Autumnal Leaves Alliance. Being bored, he took a quick glance at the experience value, after he checked it out, he was so shocked that he almost fell from the stone. To rise from level 3 to level 4, he needed 5 times the amount of experience he needed to raise from level 2 to level 3!

At the beginning stage, it was already hard to raise a level, one can already imagine how hard it would be after leaving beginner village.

Time quickly passed through uninteresting killing of common wolves. This territory of the wolves was located at the entrance of wild wolf valley, further ahead was the territory of more powerful wolves. But right now, he could easily kill wild wolves with 2-hits, which was undoubtedly suitable place for leveling. In the game world, if you want to become really strong, you should learn to endure dull farming to level up. Long time ago, he was already accustomed to it even to the extent that he already learnt to enjoy this dull farming.

The opening of <Destiny> had cause the original uproar of Beijing's street to become extraordinarily quite. It's huge influence covers all people and it will get bigger and bigger. Perhaps the habits and patterns of humans in the future would be greatly influenced by it.

From the noon <Destiny> was opened, the wheel of time was turning more and more, already from noon to early evening.

Chapter 23: Variation Blood Wolf

Ding

"Your level increased to level four."

HP+10

MP+10

"You obtained five basic attribute points."

Finally the sound which he was looking forward to, rang in his ear. Like before he added all these points to his strength attribute. He crouched down and collected all the materials from the dead body of the wolf. At this moment, the whole territory of these wild wolves was quiet and you couldn't even see a single shadow of any wild wolves. Finally, he stood up and slowly walked deeper inside the wolf valley.

After passing through that narrow valley, a new world appeared in front of him. Here the atmosphere was even more ghastly and the chilling sensation could make people tremble with fear. In this place, none of the ruthless groups of wild wolves existed rather there was an even more ruthless and tyrannical group of wolves...The Blood Wolves!

Blood Wolf: Level 7

HP: 250

A bloodthirsty wolf, has a keen ability to act, and uses its sharp fangs and claws as its sharp weapons. It attacks any player who approaches it.

Skill: None

Compared to a wild wolf its HP was only more by 50 points, but its speed and hostility range clearly surpassed the wild wolf by a large margin.

He had just stepped into the territory of Blood wolf, three blood wolves rushed at him from three different directions at the same time. He dodged the attack of two blood wolves and let the claw attack of the remaining blood wolf land on his body.

-35! HP

As he didn't have any defense equips except for beginner clothing, so his defense was pitifully low. At this time, he had only 11 points in defense and 210 points in life. If these blood wolves could pin him down then they could send him back to the beginner village within a second by biting. He didn't retreat, and expression of excitement appeared on his face after a long time. His figure moved back and forth in the midst of the pack of the blood wolf, every second he was calculating, focusing and making judgments about blood wolves' tendencies, and his destiny of moment was also making pitch-black circular arcs.

An hour later, all the pack of the blood wolves had disappeared, and he was gloomily waiting for the re-spawn of these blood wolves while holding destiny of moment. When most of the other players didn't dare to hunt in wild wolf's territory, he was hunting alone in the territory of level seven blood wolves, it was like he had booked the whole place.

Ding

"Your hunger status already exceeded 90 points, please eat some food."

At town or city, the hunger stat rose by 1 point per 5 minutes, but when fighting outside in the wilderness, hunger stat rose by 1 point per 3 minutes. Ye Tian Xie swallowed his final steamed bun, and his hunger stat dropped to 70 points. Now it was necessary to return the beginner village to stock up the food.

Just when he had turned his body around, not too far away to his right side, a blood colored light appeared. A figure twice as much as the ordinary blood wolf, 'Giant Blood Wolf' appeared in the midst of that blood coloured light. After that it raised its head and howled.

His footsteps stopped. Without a slight hesitation, he turned towards it, and directly attacked the wolf in the neck with destiny of moment.

Variation Blood Wolf: Level 7, 3*elite

HP: 2000

Variation of the blood wolf, have an even more of a fierce ability to act compared to ordinary blood wolf, and also have a far more powerful attack power.

Skills: Blood wolf bite (there is 5% chance of converting the damage dealt to the opponent into its own HP.)

-102, -99, -101.....

The defense of this Variation Blood Wolf was not that higher than Giant fierce wolf. Only after 3 continuous attack of him, the majestic appearance POSS of this wolf was completed. Then its pair of terrifying blood red eyes locked on to him, and with a loud howl, it tried to seize the head of Ye Tian Xie with its huge claw. It was slightly dark in this place but you could clearly see the slight glimmer of light in that wolf claw.

Shua!

The whistling wind almost touched his face across, but he still felt slight pain. His expression became stern, he didn't retreat but suddenly advanced towards it by using the short gap when it was recovering its wolf claw. The destiny of moment once again cut its neck, and simultaneously he lowered his body, and moved from the underneath it towards its back and again firmly hacked its legs.....continuously for five times. As the attack power of destiny of moment was far higher than any other weapons, it already caused this Level 7, 3* elite Variation Blood wolf to lose $\frac{1}{4}$ of its HP.

After getting hit with successive attacks, and not finding its target in front of it, it let out a howl filled with anger and directly turned its body around. But at that moment, he quickly circled around the wolf to his original location, which was now behind the wolf. Taking advantage of this, he again quickly attacked its legs, the wolf released a sad shrill howl.

The body of this Variation Blood wolf was very big, its length was 4 meters, and its height was 3 meters. But now its huge body which could make people tremble was being used for hiding himself and also as a protective screen. He had the ability to always circle around it, he had to calculate the perfect timing. Furthermore he had to make a decision whether he should go from underneath it or to circle around it from the right side or from the left side. Finally when he should take advantage of that time to attack it. Every time Variation Blood Wolf could only circle around, and it could some time catch the sight of a disappearing shadow.

In the midst of battle, in addition to relying on strength, there are other things worth doing which could easily simplify the battle. For instance, you can take advantage of the weather or terrain. Another example, like at this moment, he who was swiftly moving behind the wolf and was using the huge body of the Variation Blood Wolf to keep out all the attacks. When battling, the first thing he always did, was to search for anything that could be used to his advantage, this was his terrifying inherent judgment skill.

A swaying white colored figure, the howl of circling around the Variation Blood wolf, and an occasional floating of yellow and red digits at uniform speed was continuing, without a single pause. After 10 seconds, already overwhelmed Variation Blood wolf finally let out a sorrowful howl afterward fell on the ground and its extremely short career of the BOSS was ended.

He calmly watched the fall of the wolf, there was not a single hint of excitement on his face. It was quite easy for him to deal with this Variation Blood wolf, because it had just appeared after he had cleared all the blood wolves in that area. If it had appeared before he had cleared all blood wolves, then he could never kill it easily like this. And if he couldn't even kill 3* elite, level 7 monster in a one on one battle, then he didn't deserve the title of 'Undefeated Evil Emperor'.

He picked up the equips and without looking at their stats, he directly threw it in his inventory. He didn't have any vocation now, so no matter if the equips had good stats or not he couldn't equip it and if he didn't see the stats now he won't have any regret. After that he placed all the silver coins in his inventory. Since it was customary, he squatted near the dead body of Variation Blood wolf and used his basic 'harvest' skill.

Ding

"You got eyes of variation blood wolf."

Ding

"You got purple gem necklace."

"Oh?" He was surprised and looked at the necklace which was sparkling with dim violet light, this necklace caught him unprepared. No matter what the VR game is, necklace, ring, earring and other jewelry type of items are the most difficult items to find. And most of them come with special attributes. The rarer something is, the greater its value. The value of a steel grade necklace is comparable to copper ranked armor or higher.

And the strange thing about this necklace was, it was not dropped from Variation Blood wolf, rather he had harvested it from its corpse. Don't tell me, this Variation Blood wolf's body can also sprout necklace?

Purple gem necklace: The Variation Blood wolf had accidentally gotten this necklace. It is successfully created from pure purple gem. Unknown specific origin, maybe you can obtain some information from beginner village' head.

This is.....a mission item?

Chapter 24: Ancient life ring

With slight regret he kept this necklace in his inventory. Then he turned around to leave the Wolf valley and returned to the beginner village.

Right now it was already close to 8 o'clock in the evening, but as before beginner village was still bustling, and noisy with every kind of noise, whole beginner village was filled with variety of cries and noise coming from the surrounding stalls.

"Level 3 battle-axe, with attack +7, compared to the common white grade battle axe which have only +1 attack, it is much better, 2 silver only."

"Level 3 robe, with spirit +2, best robe for novice priests, 1 gold coin only, or exchange with level 3 steel grade item for warrior....."

"Highest quality straw sandal, adds +3 in movement speed, 8 silver, take it or leave!"

After killing Giant fierce wolf and Variation Blood wolf, with his 10 points in luck, right now in his inventory he had at least 10 items, among them at least 4 are steel grade items and even more all his equips were not below level 5. In this initial stage, a single piece of steel grade item was enough to make players fight each other, and if the player is wearing steel grade equips all over the body, then he would become focus point of all gaze and receive countless players' envy and jealous filled gaze.

Although there is more than 10 items in his inventory which could make any players green with envy, but he didn't have any plan to set up a stall and peddle.....as he already hold 100 gold coins and peddling here would get him some coins, nothing more.

Passing through the crowd he went straight to village head. Before he could open his mouth, the village head had clearly recognized him, and with a bright eyes he said, "Brave adventure, we meet again. Your expression tells me that you have accomplished the mission I gave."

"Yes village head, these wolf fangs can prove that I have accomplished the mission." He took out 100 wolf fangs and gave it to village head. Village head narrowed his eyes, nodded approvingly and said, "Well, as expected you are indeed brave, this is your reward."

Ding

You have successfully completed the mission. Obtained rewards; 1000 experience points, 5 silver coins and level 5 steel grade war boots."

"Thank you village head."

"No need to be modest, this is reward for your bravery. Ha ha, you're truly polite youngster."

Ding

"Village head of 60001 beginner village favorability +1."

Ye Tian Xie:""

Ai, this damn charm ah, his charm of 20 points already exceeds 2 times the normal players highest charm points is really at the level which defiance the natural order.....he let out a complacent sigh with feelings, after that he took out the dazzling purple necklace and asked, "Village head, I found this on the body of Variation Blood wolf, do you know its origin?"

Village head slightly lowered his head, his pair of old half-closed eyes suddenly opened wide and his face suddenly froze and didn't respond for a long time. Finally he reached out his withered hand to that purple necklace, his whole body trembling, and spoke with a small trembling voice which was almost impossible to hear, " This.....this is.....this is the necklace worn by my son before he died ah!"

Seeing the reaction of village head, he thought it was the sign of positive outcome, and the words 'this was the necklace worn by my son' let him know the origin of necklace. And he also thought, originally this was the necklace worn by the son of village head and when he went to wolf valley, he died there and left behind this necklace on the ground and after that Variation Blood wolf found it and it eventually fell in his hand.

Village firmly held the purple gem necklace, as if he wanted to embed it in his palm, and murmured in a low spirit, "This was the final gift my wife gave to my son, and also this was his most precious thing in his life. To see it, was my greatest wish after both my wife and son had died, but I believed that I would never see it again in my life.....Thank you, thank you youngster. Thank you for helping me to retrieve the belongings of my son. It feels like I am seeing his heroic appearance again....."

Village head put that purple gem necklace before his chest, his face was already covered with tears. He closed his eyes, and recalled his cherish memory of distant past of his dead son and wife.

Ye Tian Xie kept his mouth shut, he knew that now this old man needs quite, and even more knew.....if he waited here quietly then clearly, he would obtain a reward of hidden mission.

Finally after a long time he opened his eyes, he wiped all the tears in his face, and with a cool expression pat Ye Tian Xie's shoulder and said, "You are brave not only in name but a true brave and kind person. I will always remember your kindness.....I have nothing to repay your great favor, but this ring which I had worn for many years, I'll gift you. I wish its ability would help you in your adventures in the future. I'll look forward to the time when you became a real hero and go to punish those demons who had brought disaster to the world that day."

A simple and unadorned ring appeared in the hand of village head, and he placed that ring in Ye Tian Xie's hand. He could see faint blue colored light appeared at the ring.....rings are incomparably precious type of accessory items, and blue light signifies.....this is unexpectedly a steel grade ring.

Ancient Life ring: steel grade accessory

Requirement: None

Village head of 60001 beginner village had luckily found this ring in the wilderness in his early days.

Origin: Unknown

Attributes: HP+ 100, auto-heal 2 HP per second.

The attribute of the ring had far exceed his expectation, he was surprised for a brief moment. In front of village head, he wore this ancient life ring in his finger, and sincerely said, "Thank you village head, this Life ring will give me a lot of help."

"Ha ha, you can say that I'm very pleased." The village gently nodded his head and said with a smile.

Ding

"You successfully complete a unique hidden mission 'lost purple gem necklace'. Obtained: 800 experience, special item: Ancient life ring, and village head of 60001 village favorability +20."

Ding

"The favorability of village head of 60001 village reached full confidence."

In the <destiny> world, NPC favorability towards the players also have a certain classification, roughly: absolutely irreconcilable (favorability -100 or less), displaying extreme anger (favorability -60 or less), will not spare a glance (-30 favorability or less), look cold and indifferent (favorability -10 below) and nothing out of ordinary (favorability -10 to 10), admire extremely (10 or more favorability), full confidence (favorability above 40), deeply grateful (favorability 100), have faith in (favorability above 170), start to serve as celestial beings (favorability above 250), worship (500 or more favorability).

The higher the degree of favorability, NPC will become more enthusiastic to help and guide the players, and simultaneously can receive more missions, probability of triggering hidden mission will be greatly improved. On the contrary, when the degree of favorability drops to negative, NPC's will give cold shoulder to the players and even often give malicious guidance, or they would not give even a most common mission. When favorability dropped to -50 or less due to any reason, then there will be a certain probability of being attacked by NPC, lower the favorability, higher the probability of attacking, and when favorability is reduced to -100, then the NPC will attack you 100%, when they catch the sight of that player.

Chapter 25: Real? Illusion?

In less than a day, the favorability of the village head of the beginner village 60001 towards Ye Tian Xie had already reached full confidence level. In this stage, this was undoubtedly an excellent state. He bid farewell to the village head and went towards the smithy of the blacksmith Lao Wang.

"Hello, uncle blacksmith, here is a total of 500 wolf's fangs for you. This should be enough for you to use for some time." Ye Tian Xie took out all the wolf's fangs he had collected and placed them in front of the blacksmith Lao Wang. The blacksmith stopped forging and exclaimed with admiration, "Brave adventurer from a different world, once again you let me experience your bravery. This is a first class forging material, it's making me really excited, I don't know what to say."

Ding

"You successfully completed the mission 'Blacksmith Wang's commission'. You obtain: 1200 experience points and a piece of Level 5 leggings of assassin vocation.

Because you exceed the required quota to complete the mission, blacksmith Lao Wang's favorability +15."

Ding

"Blacksmith Lao Wang's favorability of you increased to 'full confidence'.

Although he had given more than 10 times the required quota to complete the mission of the blacksmith, his rewards didn't changed, but the blacksmith favorability towards him increased by +15, which completely satisfied him.

Just when Ye Tian Xie was about to leave, suddenly he heard the voice of blacksmith Wang, "Earnest hero, can you let me examine that ring in your finger? I can feel that some kind of mysterious power is flowing in it."

Ye Tian Xie quickly turned around, he took off the ring from his finger and gave it to blacksmith Lao Wang. Blacksmith Lao Wang took the ring, looked very carefully and after a moment raised his head and said, "As expected, this ring possesses mysterious powers, but since it is too old, it cannot release its full power. Earnest hero, can you give it to me? I can forge it again, I have complete confidence that it will become even more powerful than before. I want to repay you for waking up my wife."

"Sure, you can." Ye Tian Xie had a calm smile in the surface, but inside his mind, he was so much excited that if it was possible, he would have hugged this blacksmith Lao Wang's favorability!

"Thank you for your trust, I need half a day to excavate its power. After half a day you can come again. Perhaps at that time, you would be pleasantly surprised." Blacksmith Lao Wang said happily.

"Okay."

After he left the smithy, he went towards the grocery store and bought a small pile of tasty fruit, and then he ate those fruits until his hunger status reached 0. From this, he discovered that every fruit reduce a single point. That said, since Guo Guo returned to the eternal destiny of moment, she didn't come out again. Probably overslept.

Ye Tian Xie looked at the time, closed his eyes and silently said, "Logout."

Before his eyes the world started to spin, and when his sight was restored, he saw familiar walls. He had logged in at 8 in the evening, and for the next 8 hours he had not eaten anything, so it was only natural to know that his stomach was rumbling with hunger. He sat straight and picked up the remote control and turned on the television, then he stood up and prepared to look for something to eat.....but, the news report on the television suddenly made him stop, and unconsciously tighten up.

".....today evening at 7:30, researcher and developer of <Destiny> world and director of Tianwai Corporation, Pu Luo Si, was suddenly found dead in his house. The cause of death was unknown and is urgently being investigated. On the basis of the expression after death and the note, which had his handwriting, in his hands, initial judgment was given as suicide....."

Pu Luo Si.....died!?

Various Medias of the world were trying their best to provide detailed news report on this astonishing news. Who would have thought, the opening of the <Destiny> world was not even past half a day and almost everyone around the world was trying their best to conquer the <Destiny> world, but its founder was already dead. The news report mentioned that.....there was not any external or internal injuries in any part of his body, nevertheless, strangely, Pu Luo Si no longer had a life.

World renowned doctors tried their best by using the most advanced equipment to recover his heartbeat, but it was completely useless.

The suicide note in his hand was long, in few critical sentences; "..... <Destiny> had succeed to surpass all the previous VRMMORPG games. Also, my biggest dream was finally fulfilled. Now, I don't have any regret even if I die. Although I will not be in this world, still, <Destiny> will never fall. Alpha has already returned to his native place, and even at that faraway place he could control everything of <Destiny> world....."

All the words of the suicide note's final line were written in deep red blood, these words were, in Chinese characters: "Please treasure your.....destiny!"

That attracting and strange combination of words in the last line triggered a worldwide discussion and speculation. Every kind of guesses were derived from this line and nearly filled the whole world's internet.

Ye Tian Xie had his eyes fixed on the screen of the television that was showing the dead body of Pu Luo Shi, who had a completely composed expression and a weak smile on his face, showing he was completely satisfied with his life. In the mind of Ye Tian Xie, the afternoon news conference was resounding again and he started to think about the meaning of those few sentences and said in a low voice, "Pu Luo Si, what were you trying to say? But again, didn't dare to frankly say in the end?"

"Oh la la.....Sleeping is quite comfortable. Master, did you miss me.....eh? Where is this?"

Hearing this clear and melodious, as well as familiar, voice, Ye Tian Xie who was always calm, became petrified with a dull expression, as if he was seeing an alien.

Illusion.....illusion.....illusion! ! Definitely an illusion!

But the floating white light in front of him directly defeated him in his self-suggestion.

The white ball of light continuously moved upwards and finally, before his eyes, the light dissipated, a delicate little girl gracefully turned around in the air. With a dark hair and a snow white skirt, she was softly dancing in the air, and the incomparably exquisite little face was now reflecting in Ye Tian Xie's dull eyes.

"Eh? Master, what's wrong la? Why are you looking at me like that? Thinking about me?" Guo Guo moved forward a bit and used her hands to hold her face, to make her face more loveable. Seeing that Ye Tian Xie was still dull, she snorted and used her hand to jab at his forehead, "Yi ya, master....."

The sense of touch from the forehead, finally made his soul return to his body. He firmly fixed his gaze on Guo Guo and at the same time used his hand to touch the forehead where he was touched by Guo Guo.....then suddenly swung his head.....but before him there was still the curious Guo Guo.

Illusion.....

Don't tell me that it is not an illusion.....

In the end, what is that, ah ah ah!!! World is in disorder! This little, why did she appeared here.....in the end what happened ah!

Ye Tian Xie stretched his hands, and took hold of Guo Guo with both of his hands. His hands felt that he was touching something soft and delicate just like cotton, this was not illusion. There is no illusion of this level in this world.

Guo Guo carefully moved in his palm and lifted her head. Then said nervously, "Master.....are you angry.....because Guo Guo overslept la....."

"Guo Guo." He was still staring at her, and said, "Seriously, answer my question.....in the end who are you, why can you come here from an VR world?"

"Eh?" Guo Guo blinked her eyes, after a moment she released a 'ah' sound as a reaction and covered her mouth. Her eyes were opened wide and there was also panic in her face and she said in a small voice, "This.....this.....is this another world.....wu, I slept too much and did not pay attention to which world this was, no wonder the taste is so strange.....wu wu, what's done is done, I shouldn't be out this early, wu.....what's done is done....."

Her miserable whining was heard by Ye Tian Xie without a missing single word.....she had carelessly came here.....

This little.....

Ye Tian Xie sat on the sofa, in his heart he was still shocked for a long period of time, unable to stop. He couldn't help but say, "Guo Guo, since you call me master, from now on you should listen to me. If you hide the truth from me, perhaps I might become very angry."

"Wu wu....." Guo Guo shook her head, she then timidly lifted her head, loosened her hands from her lips and with watery eyes, she said, "I want to eat lollipop."

Putong! At the same time Ye Tian Xie crashed on the floor.

Chapter 26: Buying sweets, Kidnapping

Summer night, a cool breeze blowing.

Ye Tian Xie had inserted both of his hands inside the pocket of his trousers, and was walking alone on the streets full of various lights. Even the frequently passing peoples and vehicles didn't drew his attention in the slightest. He kept on thinking about the appearance of Guo Guo in this world inside his brain.

Every answer should be inside this destiny of moment. He caught the black pendant which was hanging near his chest.....'no matter if it is the destiny world, or the real world, Guo Guo had appeared from inside this pendant , and this pendant can actually exist in the destiny world and the real world.....why?'

What exactly did she left inside of this?

Who.....is she?

His footsteps suddenly stopped, he had forgotten about this many years ago, the question he had evaded for many years suddenly hit him in his heart. He released a heavy sigh, and continued to move forward.

After crossing 3 whole streets, Ye Tian Xie finally arrived before the nearest vending machine. At his residence neighborhood, there was still 5-6 big and small shops opened but.....if he, a grown man, went to a shop in the middle of night to buy a bunch of lollipops.....it was no different than throwing away his face. Just think about the strange gaze of the shopkeeper, it would be enough to kill him.

He glanced around for a few times, after making sure that no one was around, he took out a 100 dollars bill and stuffed the money into the opening, after that, he bought 20 lollipops.

Hualala, 20 different flavors lollipops gushed out one by one. Again, he looked around his surroundings, seeing no one around him, he calmly put all 20 lollipops inside his pocket and sealed his pocket tightly. He was about to leave, but hesitated and turned around. After that, he again took out another 100 dollars bill and bought various types of chocolates and stuffed another pocket.

Mission accomplished! Ye Tian Xie released a small sigh of relief, and quickly started to walk. He had never, even in a dream, thought that he would come to buy chocolates.....but the pure, innocent and the anxious eyes of Guo Guo forced him.

The sky was already completely black, the clouds were blocking the incomplete moon, which shined a pale light on the earth. There were many lights in the city that were illuminating this downtown, but this light couldn't illuminate that countless evil hidden in the dark.

Ye Tian Xie always regarded himself as a man who was not part of this world, and in reality, he was sometimes aloof, and sometimes he makes a bold move which some ordinary peoples do not dare. What he wants is even he himself is also quietly looking for that answer. Watching the reality of the world with cold eyes, and silently watching the corner ordinary people can't see, the more he thinks, the more he and the world part.

Blue, however you are the sky,

White, however you are a cloud.

Ye Tian Xie looked towards the black sky and depicts the cloud's shape. And he started to sing the poem he had learned from his elementary teacher.

A cold gust of wind blew in his ear, he slightly raised his head and was quite enjoying the cool and refreshing indifferente foul flavor of this city. But his steps paused, and he looked towards the direction of that far away dim corner.

"Oh.....Oh.....Let go of me.....help.....save"

A sneer appeared in his face, he withdrew his vision, no longer looking at that direction, and continued to walk forward. This place is the most bustling capital city of china and here you could see every kind of dirt. He had already seen too much, initially, he used to be angry but gradually became familiar to these sights and became insensitive towards them. Perhaps this is part of another rule of reality, so long ago, he had already stopped to meddle in another person business any longer.

100 meters of distance, it was clear that no ordinary person could hear the shout of that female, and no one could see what was happening in that dark corner. Ye Tian Xie turned around the corner, and his gaze carelessly saw the situation in that corner, his steps suddenly stopped.

They were separated by 100 meters of distance, but his vision cut through the veil of night and saw the terrified expression of a female child at that corner. From her face, he caught a hint of familiarity, and also, this sense was not at all a distant feeling, as if he had just seen her.

Instantly, he had already remembered where he had seen this girl, he somewhat cannot help but turn around and walk and mumble to himself, "Count yourself lucky, it seemed like you looked at your yellow calendar before you left your house."

"Fu.....Hurry up! Those guards around her are not a simple character, if they are back, then it would be troublesome."

"Heng! Those blockheads are completely lead around the city by their noses. Heng, what elites of dog fart's Cheetah organization, with just a bit of distraction, we caught them just like a pig." A person with black clothes all over his body said with a ferocious looks.

"Well, get in the van." Said the man who was holding a cigar in his mouth.

Under the cover of darkness, the door of the black van was opened, and the little girl whose mouth was already sealed, was hauled inside the van. In her eyes, you could see a completely terrified expression, she was struggling to free herself and could only release a small whining sound.

Altogether, there were 4 individuals with black clothes, and you could easily see that those people were not good people. And from their clothing style, you could easily know that these people were from the underworld.

“Dark night, what a wonderful relaxing time, I don’t know where you four are intending to take this beautiful young miss in this marvelous night.”

All 4 peoples suddenly became serious and simultaneously turned around. It was dim ahead, so they didn’t realize that a single youth with casual clothing was standing there. With the help of this dim light, they vaguely caught the sight of a comfortable smile in the face of the youth, but that smile caused their hearts to violently beat.

With their high degree of alertness, none of them had noticed when this youth had appeared behind them. This person.....

The old man was the first to calm down after their brief moment of surprise, he threw the cigar in his mouth, and with eyes that looked like a fierce wolf released a stern light and in a cold voice, he said, “Dispose of him.”

“Wu wu.....” The female in the van tried to ask for help, and tried to open her eyes to look at the man who had suddenly appeared. She had nearly given up all her hope, but the sudden appearance of the man felt like she had just caught the straw and she tried her best to struggle.

Clang!

A metal sound was heard, and within the hands of these 4 people appeared guns pointed towards Ye Tian Xie. And simultaneously revealed a cold smile.
